Councilmen Advised Not to Vote on RA Matters

Hupf, Stewart Redevelopment 'Conflicts' Studied

By FRANK LaPIERRE

The Daly City Redevelopment Agency, composed of the five members of the City Council, emerged tightlipped from a closed door meeting late Monday afternoon.

City Attorney Albert Polonsky would only comment that the matter of Councilman/RA board member Paul Hupf's purchase of property in the redevelopment project area had been discussed.

Also, the matter of Mayor McRobert Stewart's participation in the appointment of his employer, Charles White, to the RA project area committee was likewise the topic of conversation.

Polonsky said he had advised both men to abstain from voting on redevelopment matters until the issue has been resolved.

City Attorney Albert Polonsky

Asked if he had advised council members on the contents of Sections 33130 and 33236 of the Health and Safety Code, which deal in such matters, Polonsky gave a curt "no comment."

Section 33130 of the H&S Code deals with acquisition of interest in property in project areas by agency personnel.

It states: "No agency or community officer or employe who in the course of his duties is required to participate in the formation of or to approve plans or policies for the redevelopment of a project area shall acquire any interest in any property included within a project area within the community."

Polonsky was read this section and asked if it pertained to Hupf.

His reply: "No comment."

Section 33236, which preceded 33130, contains much the same paragraph.

Failure to comply with either section constitutes "misconduct in office" and is cause for removal of the agency member (Section 33235).

It was understood a city agency would evaluate Polonsky's findings in coming weeks.

The city attorney, meanwhile, left on vacation.

When the Redevelopment Agency reconvened in public session shortly after 6 p.m., Monday, Hupf was absent.

It was explained he had other commitments, but would attend the later regular meeting of the council.

He failed to appear for the 8 p.m. meeting which featured a public hearing and lengthy agenda.

Board chairman Stewart, on reconvening the agency meeting, even abstained from casting a vote to adjourn.

The Post first published the acquisition of land at 7316 Mission St. in the project area by Hupf and his law partner, Frank Blum Jr., last week.

Hupf, in explaining the transaction, said he intended to move his law offices from their present location by the Westlake Shopping Center to the Mission Street site.

Hupf said he had not realized the purchase of the lot — a former ambulance firm office — would cause such a furor and in fact, bought the land as a display of his faith in the future of the street.

Together with Blum, Hupf paid out some $63,000. He said it will take another $37,000 to $50,000 to put the structure in shape for his needs.

Meanwhile, the Original Daly City Protective Association asked the council to forgive-and-forget what it considers a tempest in a teapot.

At their meeting of Aug. 25, the ODCPA, co-chaired by Conrad Pavellas and Sylvester Buria, asked that the Hupf matter be dismissed as nothing more than "a legal technicality without underlying substance" and that "Mr. Hupf be deemed to have cleared up the matter by complying quickly and voluntarily."

Councilman Paul Hupf

The ODCPA further advised that "the matter should not be used as a lever to force Mr. Hupf out of an office he is filling with such ability and distinction."

Hupf filed a formal disclosure of his holdings following an article which appeared two weeks ago in The San Mateo Times.

He pleaded ignorance to the redevelopment law in the purchase of property and in disclosing such purchases.

Trustees to Be Paid for Meetings

The Jefferson Elementary School District Trustees voted 3-1 Aug. 21 to pay themselves for serving on the board.

As a result of the action, the trustees will receive $20 for each board meeting, with the monthly sum alloted not to exceed $120. In addition, the personnel commission will receive $15 per meeting, with maximum payment for a month at $75.

Although the payment becomes effective immediately, individual board members can choose not to receive the stipend by signing an affadavit expressing that position.

Trustees Beverly Forrester, James Cranna, and the proposal's sponsor David Parker voted for the pay. Dorothy Adams voted against it. The fifth board member, Al Schwarzbach, had been in the past strongly opposed to the plan, but did not attend the meeting.

In a statement read by Mrs. Schwarzbach for her husband, the trustee said, "This is no time to authorize payment of stipends to either trustees or personnel commissioners. We should set the example of austerity which we have demanded and expected of others. The trustees should by their conduct, reaction and understanding emulate the behavior that they expect of others in an effort to hold down unnecessary expenditures."

Schwarzbach pointed out that the "district has asked the community, parents, students, teachers and staff to become sensitive to the financial predicament in which the district finds itself."

Parker said he introduced the proposal after being told by some members of the community that they would not run for the board because they couldn't afford it. He felt the payment would make it easier for citizens of lower income groups to run.

Mrs. Forrester, the board president said the reimbursement was not an incentive to run for the position. "It's just too costly to serve on the board," she said. "There are many meetings we are invited to, not actually relating to the school district, but that you feel a responsibility to go to represent the district. The

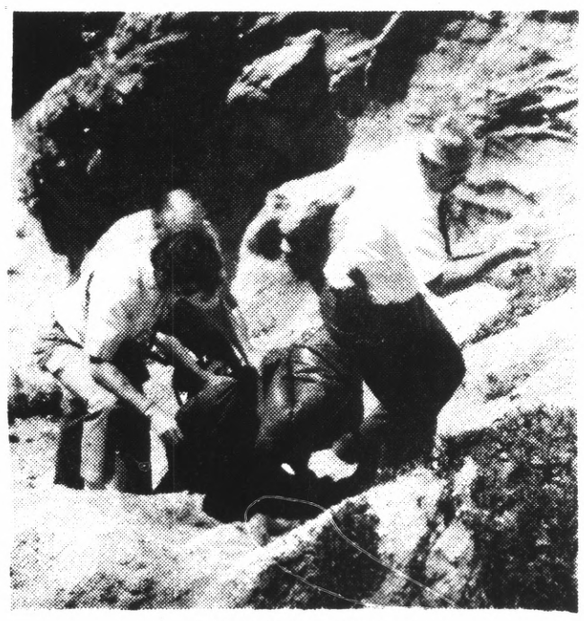
Corpse Found on Devil's Slide

Man Held; Attempts Suicide



GRISLY FIND

San Mateo County Sheriff's Deputies carry the mummified remains of a small boy from below Devil's Slide.

The 23-year-old Oakland man charged with the theft of a small child's body from a Colma cemetery was transferred to Chope Hospital under police guard after he tried to commit suicide inside the Daly City jail Friday night.

Police said they have identified the man as Marcellinus Sharn Vandenberg of Oakland.

Earlier he had told arresting officers his name was Ronald Christopher Jones, alias Marcel Von Berg.

Vandenberg was apprehended Thursday by Broadmoor Police Officer Gene Tognetti who, along with Colma Police Chief James Dorris and Broadmoor Police Lt. Merrill Baxley had staked out the crypt where a 6-year-old boy's body had been stolen last Wednesday.

The mummified remains of the child, who died in 1971, were found by a fisherman some 75 feet below the highway on Devils Slide Wednesday.

In a psychological game of hide and seek with an anonymous caller who told of the body snatch, Chief Dorris refused to acknowledge the body had been taken from the crypt.

Dorris said the man called "numerous times" boasting of his crime, but on each occasion Dorris told the caller he knew nothing of the crime.

Thursday night, Tognetti said he spotted Vandenberg entering the crypt. When Vandenberg started removing the coffin, the officer arrested him.

Police think Vandenberg is the same person who has been harassing the dead boy's family for the past two years, claiming he was "told to possess the body."

Vandenberg, police said, stole a Transcontinental bus and drove it to Holy Cross Cemetery in Colma to spirit the body away Monday.

Vandenberg allegedly told police he first took the body, wrapped in a white shroud, to the Palace of Fine Arts in San Francisco "where he apprently thought someone would find it right away," Dorris said.

But the next morning the body was still there.

The body was then taken to Devils Slide where it was thrown over the cliff, Dorris said.

After the chief refused to acknowledge to the anonymous caller that the body was missing, the alleged thief revisited the Devil's Slide area and attempted to find the remains, The Post learned.

Failing this, he returned and called Dorris again, demanding front page articles be published in a San Francisco newspaper.

"He said he'd better see something on the crime (in the paper) soon or he might steal another body to prove to us he could do it," Dorris said.

Vandenberg was transferred from Redwood City jail Saturday morning to Chope Hospital on a medical evaluation hold, police said.

Police Cool Reports SLA Hid Out in DC

Daly City police are trying to cool the sudden burst of publicity surrounding a Westlake home where the Sympionese Liberation Army supposedly held Patricia Hearst hostage after her abduction from a Berkeley apartment some seven months ago.

"It sounds like the media has a lot of space to fill, now that Watergate's over," Capt. Richard Sims commented on the subject Friday.

Sims, an FBI academy graduate, and Chief of Police David Hansen both feel that where Miss Hearst was held after her kidnapping does little to aid law enforcement agencies in locating her whereabouts at present.

"Someone is obviously trying to make a very big thing out of this," Sims says.

KQED newswoman Marilyn Baker "broke" the story on Daly City hideout early last week.

Neither FBI nor Daly City police investigation has turned up conclusive evidence that Miss Hearst, or any member of the SLA, lived at the west-of-Skyline home on Northridge Drive.

A car that reportedly was recovered from the garage of the home, at 37 Northridge, actually was recovered in Oakland where it had been driven by the homeowner, James Mazzariello, after he told Berkely police he found it inside the garage of the vacated Northridge Drive house, police said.

Daly City was not informed of the investigation of the home by either the FBI or Berkeley police at the time, Sims said.

"They did touch base with us later on and I assigned detective Les Bastedo to check the place out," Sims said.

How much later, Sims was asked?

"About three months," he answered.

The car recovered was a green and white Chevrolet identical to that which was used in kidnapping Miss Hearst, according to reports.

Two Berkeley detectives — Steve Engler and Dan Wolke — said they have determined that members of the SLA did in fact live at the Daly City address; that one member of the SLA, Bill Harris, bought the car 18 days before the kidnapping of Miss Hearst using an address on Winchester Drive in Daly City and phony identification and; the Daly City home was used as a stopover by the gang.

here had been rumors floating around Daly City some months ago that the SLA "might just bottle themselves up around here," one officer commented.

Along with dozens of other leads, the FBI and law enforcement agencies around the state were put on an all-points alert for any information concerning the abduction.

It was also rumored that friction between Berkley police and FBI agents was building over failure to coordinate investigations shortly after the kidnapping.

FBI chied Charles Bates said this week he will accept any information concerning Miss Hearst's present whereabouts, but thinks where she was several months ago will do little to aid them in their search.

"The police have some updated leads on where the SLA has been — Los Angeles, for example," one Daly City policeman said.

Meanwhile, newsperson Baker has refused to reveal the source of her latest leads to police on the matter.

Developer Carl Gellert Dies

Carl Gellert, who, with his brother Fred, constructed the $200 million Serramonte Shopping Center complex in Daly City, died Saturday following a lengthy illness. He was 75.

Serramonte was started in 1966 in the southern section of Daly City.

It eventually encompassed some 2000 homes and 500 apartment units, in addition to the huge shopping complex.

The Gellerts, through their non-profit Gellert Foundation, annually donated $10,000 to Daly City's recreation programs.

Some three years ago, the foundation gave the city a 23-acre parcel in the Serramonte area for a park.

Last year Fred and Carl Gellert turned over $50,000 to outfit the park with equipment, in addition to their usual $10,000 contribution.

In the years since, Carl and Fred undertook the job of changing the face of Daly City, and much of the Peninsula. They donated a total of $110,000 for recreational programs.

The brothers started their successful homebuilding business in 1922 in the Sunset District of San Francisco.

At the time of Carl Gellert's death the organization had grown to include some 40 companies.

Like builder Henry Doelger, the Gellerts volunteered their construction knowledge to the military and were assigned the task of building housing and other government facilities in Pittsburg, Richmond, Oakland, Stockton and other bases around the Bay Area.

At the end of World War II, the Gellerts returned to homebuilding, this time on a large scale.

Daly City Tax Cut

It was Ben Franklin who once said, "A penny saved is a penny earned."

Going along with this frugal thought, the Daly City Council agreed with recommendations of City Mgr. David Rowe Monday and chopped one cent off the $1.91 tax rate.

Councilman Victor Kryiakis felt the belt tightening budget of the city, and the tax rate cut (albeit small), will "reassure taxpayers" that their elected officials "are trying to hold the line."

Daly City, while perhaps reducing its revenue from property taxes by some $16,000, can still avoid dipping into reserve accounts — primarily because of the 11 per cent increase in local assessed valuations.

The city is expected to collect about $3.1 million in property taxes this year as compared to $2.8 million last year.

Spitting Leads To Jail Cell

It's not nice to spit on a police department window.

And as San Franciscan Van Peter Denike, alias "The Duke," found out last Tuesday night 's also against the law.

According to South San Francisco police, Denike walked into the station and asked to be booked as a "sleeper."

He was told the department no longer had "in-house" jail facilities.

According to police, Denike a 6-foot-2, 230-pounder, became belligerent, started using obscenities, and in general created a disturbance and refused to leave the front desk area.

He told police if they wanted him out they'd have to forcibly remove him. They did.

But, according to police, Denike remained in the station's outside lobby, continuing to create a disturbance.

When told to cease such activities, police said Denike responded by spitting on the glass partition to the inner office. He was advised spitting on apublic building was against the law. Denike, police said, spit again.

That was the last straw.

Denike was booked for disturbing the peace, spitting on a public building, and interfering with police business.

Police said that after the arrest it took another 20 minutes to get Denike to identify himself. He was taken to Daly City Jail.

SSF Scavengers End 22-Day Strike

South San Francisco scavengers ended their 22-day walkout Friday with the ratification of a new salary and fringe benefit pact which gives them $1.93 an hour pay hike over the next three years.

Along with the pay raise, scavenger company employes received improved benefits for sick leave, cost-of-living agreements, overtime, vacations, pension plans, uniforms, holidays and related on-the-job matters.

Teamsters, Sanitary Truck Drivers and Workers, Local 350 officials reported garbage pickups in Brisbane, South San Francisco and Millbrae will be soon normal.

The scavenger company management and representatives of the 40 striking workers reached tentative agreement Thursday night, according to scavenger company negotiater Gene Gummerson.

Gummerson had met with union representatives Hermano Bussi and Bob Morales, and federal mediator Jerry Finley far into the night Thursday to settle the dispute that had disrupted garbage service to the North County cities since Aug. 1.

Before the settlement, scavenger employes received $37 and $38 per day in wages.

Lutheran Ladies Raising Funds

Medical Center May Get Blood Machine

The Institute of Medical Sciences at the Pacific Medical Center may receive an innovative blood separation machine that opens ways to treat cancer through an ambitious project by the Lutheran Ladies League of San Francisco.

The league can purchase the $50,000 instrument with financing from General Mills upon the redemption of one million Betty Crocker coupons.

Marian Armstrong, in a plea to the community to help reach the one million goal, said coupons from the Betty Crocker products should be mailed to the Lutheran Church of Our Savior, 1011 Garfield, San Francisco (phone 586-7890). Expired coupons are acceptable.

Dr. Harold Mielke, Jr., Director of Hematological Studies at the Institute of Health Research, said the machine, available at only a few medical centers in the United States, has many uses in therapy and research.

"In effect, the machine temporarily becomes part of the blood circulation of a blood donor," Dr. Mielke said. "Blood passes from the donor's vein into the machine where specific elements needed by a patient are separated and extracted while the rest of the blood is immediately returned to the donor.

"In many cases," he said, "this means that a relative of the patient can provide all that is needed."

Dr. Mielke said one of the new types of therapy made possible by the machine is the strengthening of the weak immune defenses of the advanced cancer patient. "About 40 per cent of all advanced cancer patients die of infection rather than of the disease itself," he said.

These patients have had a shortage of the kind of large white blood cell that acts to engulf and destroy bacteria invading the body, he said. The machine removes these cells from the blood of healthy donors. When added to the blood of cancer patients, the cells have produced substantial reduction in mortality from infection, Dr. Mielke explained.

Another use of the machine is for removing diseased white cells from the blood of patients with leukemia, the blood cancer that produces an excessive number of such white cells. However, Dr. Mielke said the effects of this therapy are not clearly established.

"The new instrument is also being used to separate platelets from the donors' blood, that are essential in the clotting reaction that stops bleeding," Dr. Mielke said. "These are used to help check bleeding in accident victims, in certain cases of arteriosclerosis where blood vessels have ruptured, and in some cancer patients where there is excessive bleeding."

SSF Girl Hurt In Bruno Crash

A 15-year-old South San Francisco girl was admitted to Peninsula Hospital, Burlingame, Wednesday with a fractured left leg and a minor concussion after being injured in a two-car crash in San Bruno, officials said.

Stephanie Donald, of 3170 Dubln Ave., was injured when a car driven by Michael Thomas Miller, 25, of 15 Fairview Place, Millbrae, collided with a car driven by Michael Desdon Cator, 25, of 932 Daisy St., San Mateo, at Fifth and Pine streets, police said.

According to police, Miller's vehicle, westbound on Pine, struck Cator's vehicle, in which Miss Donald was a passenger, broadside as it was traveling across Pine northbound on Fifth Street.

No citations were issued, police said.

A Bank for Brisbane?

Efforts of Brisbane officials to obtain the first bank in the town's history are a step nearer fruition today.

The County Local Agency Formation Commission Wednesday voted to recommend the annexation to Brisbane of a 3.1-acre site on which the Bank of America is building a new bank.

The property is situated at the northwest corner of Bayshore Boulevard and Old County Road at the city's "entrance."

City and civic leaders appeared before the commission to urge approval of the annexation effort.

Vince Marcelli, president of the Brisbane Chamber of Commerce, said the chamber's board of directors has unanimously approved annexation of the site, which is owned by Crocker Land Co.

John Badgely, representing the Crocker Land Co., said there was "no conflict" with the annexation effort, which was initiated by the town.

Commissioner McRobert Stewart moved for approval of the annexation, stating, "It's proper and logical, it's (the property) at their front door."

Ironically, Brisbane City Atty. David J. Friedenberg had raised the question of a conflict of interest on the part of Stewart who is mayor of Daly City, because, the attorney said, Daly City is "interested" in annexing the entire Crocker Industrial Park, of which the bank property is a part.

Evacuation Plans If Dams Break

A coordinated effort to plan for the evacuation of thousands of San Mateo County residents in the event an earthquake ruptures one or more of the county's 12 dams was launched Wednesday in Redwood City.

A three-member task force from the State Office of Emergency Services (OES) appeared before some 50 city, county and Red Cross officials to present the basic guidelines for developing a coordinated evacuation plan.

The action stems from 1972 legislation requiring all California counties with the potential threat of dam failure to prepare an evacuation plan, and to submit maps showing potential areas that would be flooded in the event of such failure.

In San Mateo County, the potential is great, with Crystal Springs Dam holding back some 54,000 acre feet of water, which, if loosed all at once would send a wall of water 20 to 37 feet high cascading down San Mateo Creek into San Mateo, according to a preliminary report on the effects of a break reported last November by William Hinchcliff, area administrator for the County Civil Defense and Disaster Office.

At Wednesday's meeting the OES team, headed by Eric Orne, submitted the outline of what procedures should be taken to meet the effects of a dam break.

Necessary, the team said, is the establishment of disaster assistance centers, a multi-purpose staging area for rescuers and equipment, a mass care facility, and a plan for routing the evacuation of residents.

All of this will be done in the coming months, with no timetable having been set for completion of a plan which will then be submitted to the OES for approval.

Although a break in Crystal Springs Dam would affect the greatest number of persons and the largest developed area, several other dams also pose threats to life and property if they rupture.

Aerial maps on which were traced the paths which water would take in the event of a dam break were posted on the walls of the meeting room in the Hall of Justice at Redwood City to remind officials of what they are up against.

Some of the dams and the potential flood area:

• Crystal Springs — A path of water down San Mateo Creek, spreading north and south into Hillsborough and San Mateo, as far north as Poplar Avenue, extending south and east to the Belmont Slough and even spreading through the streets of Foster City. Although the wall of water would be high leaving the confines of the creek banks, it would spread on a reduced basis as it extends through the communities.

• Laurel Creek, San Mateo — Water spreading south of Hillsdale Boulevard, south along El Camino Real to 40th Avenue and east of El Camino to a wide area between Hillsdale and 40th to Bayshore.

• Burlingame and Crocker dams — Water spreading along a path between Burlingame and Hillsborough, spreading across El Camino to a large area south of Broadway (Burlingame) to Bayshore Freeway.

• Notre Dam Dam, Belmont — A rush of water eastward along Ralston Avenue and extending a short distance south along Alameda de las Pulgas, but not reaching Carlmont High School.

• Bear Gulch Dam, west of Atherton — Water spreading over the northwest area of Menlo Park near the Atherton city limits and toeing out at El Camino Real.

• Searsville Dam, south of Woodside — Water spreading across Junipero Serra Freeway south of the Stanford Linear Accelerator, continuing north of Middle Avenue in Menlo Park and southward through the sites of the Stanford Hospital and the Stanford Shopping Center, Palo Alto, covering most of the northerly area of Palo Alto and the southerly area of Menlo Park west of El Camino as it follows the path of San Francisquito Creek, spreading into a portion of Menlo Park east of Bayshore, but not affecting East Palo Alto.

and developed shopping centers around Fleishhacker Zoo, Twin Peaks, Mt. Sutro and Daly City.

Carl Gellert in recent years often ended up before city planning commissions and councils defending his projects in the face of opposition from conservationists.

He said he was proud of the company's developments and had given buyers well-built homes.

Gellert was a lifetime director of the National Association of Homebuilders, former president of the Association of General Contractors, Professional Member of the American Institute of Building Design, Life Member of the American Society of Military Engineers and founder and director of the Carl Gellert Foundation (an educational and medical foundation).

Survivors include his widow, Celia (Tillie) Gellert; brother, Fred Gellert; sisters, Edith Stover and Marie Simpson.

Rosary was recited at St. Cecilia's Church, San Francisco, Monday.

Funeral services were held Tuesday. Entombment was at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

expenses are minor, but they add up."

Among other board related costs besides meetings are gas and phone bills, the proposals proponents argued.

The opportunity for the board to vote itself the funds developed from state legislation, that said the compensation could be received in any school district in which the ADA (Average Daily Attendance) for the school year 1972-73 was 10,000 or less, but more than 1,000.

In other action, the board:

—Named Michael O'Kane as the new principal of Woodrow Wilson. O'Kane served as a principal and assistant principal in the Oak Grove Elementary School District in San Jose. He holds degrees from the University of Oregon and California State University, Hayward. O'Kane was one of seven candidates considered for the post, that was made vacant by the rsignation of John Belforte.

—Hired Ramah David as a bilingual teacher at Woodrow Wilson and reinstated Micheal Klos as a Guidance consultant.

—Accepted resignations from Rosamaria Lacayo and Marilyn Lufkin. Mrs. Lacayo was a bilingual teacher at Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Lufkin a teacher at Fernando Rivera.

—Accepted a resignation from Roosevelt Instructional Aide Laverne Gardella; a request for disability retirement of JFK custodian Frank Odesha; and terminated the employment of Gladys Reece because she did not have a valid children's center permit. Mrs. Reece was a pre-school employe.

JUHSD Increases Price of Lunches

Trustees of the Jefferson Union High School District reluctantly approved an increase in the price of school lunches Aug. 20.

Acting on the request of Food Service Director Ann Barreto, trustees raised "A" lunch prices from 45 cents to 55 cents. The increase brings the district in line with the Jefferson Elementary School and the South San Francisco Unified Districts.

"A" lunches are nutritionally balanced hot meals prepared daily in each of the district's six schools. The lunch program is partially funded by state and federal monies.

Asking for the increase, Mrs. Barreto cited the escalating costs of food, paper products, replacement of equipment and a possible salary increase for cafeteria employes.

Mrs. Barreto told trustees that in her 18 years as food service director she has requested increases in the prices of school lunches only twice.

The new lunch prices will be effective when school opens Sept. 10. There will be no change in the prices of a la carte items sold in the cafeteria.

Three Held In Brisbane Burglaries

The diligent work of a Brisbane police officer was credited Thursday with breaking the back of a gang of house burglars who have been operating in that city in recent months.

Officer Al Duerson City, nated more than a week of intensive investigation with the arrest of three men, charging them with burglary.

Arrested Thursday were John Wesley Lilly, 21, of 516 Alvarado St.; Kenneth Wayne Hunter, 21, of 255 San Benito; and Davie Gene Casadido, 23, of 27 Glen Park, all of Brisbane.

Casadido also was charged with possession of stolen property.

Duerson said there have been more than 20 home burglaries in recent weeks in Brisbane.

Much of the property taken in the burglaries has been recovered from San Francisco pawnshops, according to Duerson.

DC Man Dies Of Overdose

An overdose of barbituates caused the death of a 36-year-old Daly City man early Sunday morning, according to San Mateo County Coroner's Office investigators.

Jose Donaire, father of two children, of 74 Canterbury Ave. took the drugs Saturday night, police said.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Mary's Help Hospital shortly after midnight.

Donaire left a note, according to the coroner's office, apologizing for an error he had made.

The full contents of the note were not revealed by authorities.

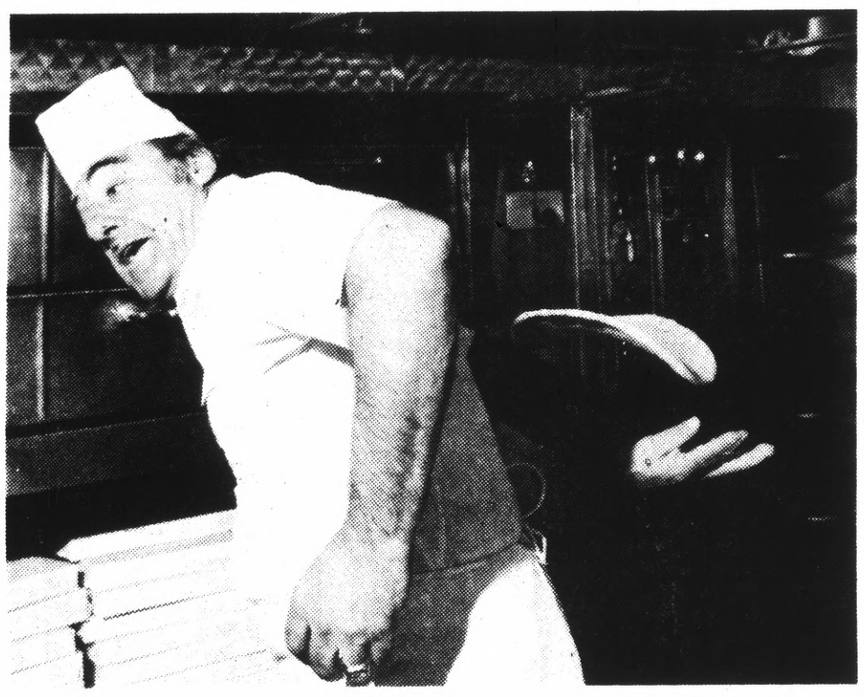
TOTO'S TALENT

Regardless whether he's on a golf course, behind a camera or making pizza at one of his restaurants, Toto Spadarella puts everything into his work. The North County restaurateur is being commended for his civic contributions by the State Assembly.



Daly City Restaurateur Commended

From Brooklyn Sidewalks to Politics

By FRANK LaPIERRE

The sidewalks of New York City are a long, long way from the floor of the California State Legislature. But in less than 24 years the name of Frank Toto Spadarella has been heard in both.

From the back alley brawls of Brooklyn, to the socially-prominent verbal fisticuffs of politics, Spadarella has left his mark.

He bears scars from both.

And as they oft say in Old New York, "While they (his opponents) were getting a steak, he was having a sandwich."

He came to the Bay Area with his father, restaurateur Toto Spadarella, in 1949 after leaving the United States Coast Guard, a military career rather undistinguished except for the fact he enlisted to serve his country during time of war.

"I was no hero. I did what I was told. I tried to do my job better than the next guy, and I was honorably discharged," says Spadarella.

In April 1944 Spadarella married Ida. The couple has two children — Bob, 22 and Tony, 27.

The list of accomplishments Spadarella has already tucked under his business belt would fill a news page.

Suffice it to say he has, at one time or another, headed the Daly City Lions, Greater Daly City Chamber of Commerce, San Francisco Restaurant Association, founded the Nikkei Lions Club of San Francisco, volunteer his time and money to help the blind, the Boy Scouts, the juveniles sent to Camp Glenwood.

His record of civic projects is endless, spanning more than two decades.

Assemblyman Louis J. Papan (Dem. Daly City) has recently introduced legislation commending Spadarella for his civic projects, pointing out that the restaurateur "has set an example of industry in his willingness to improve his professional competence.

"He has selflessly worked for the benefit of his fellow citizens through outstanding service with numerous civic, professional and charitable organizations," Papan said.

For this devotion, Spadarella should be commended "for his dynamic approach to life."

Spadarella's "dynamic approach" must include his contant battles on golf courses — trying to put a little white sphere into a small cup sunk in the ground.

From Japan to Scotland and Canada to Southern California and Hawaii, Spadarella has challenged some of the world's toughest golf courses.

He is an unhappy 14 handicap, he says.

After playing the game for the past 10 years "I should be better, but I keep getting worse," he said.

In recent years, he has turned more of is off time to another, less strenuous hobby — photography. He has already won honors in this field.

At 49 years old, Spadarella can still "outflip" the hired help when it comes to tossing pizza.

His father started the pizza business in San Francisco in 1949 in the Mission district, along with his mother and wife, Ida.

It was a family affair that soon met with success.

"We were mobbed from the beginning," Spadarella recalls. "We only had four booths and eight tables, and people lined up down the block to get in."

One year later, in 1950, the family opened "Toto's Napoli" restaurant on Broadway in San Francisco.

Today, with son, Robert, now with the company, — in Daly City, San Bruno Toto's has three restaurants and in the Mission District.

SSF Man Held in Robbery

A South San Francisco man was arrested by San Francisco police Wednesday for allegedly robbing the Eureka Federal Savings and Loan Mission Street branch of $300.

Jerry Haynes, 26, was in good condition at San Francisco General Hospital where he is being treated for a fractured leg sustained when the car he allegedly was driving from the savings and loan office, crashed into a light standard.

According to police after the robbery, an association employe Allen Jamiesen, 28, chased the robber, honking his horn so persistently that it frightened the robber, whose car jumped the divider strip and crashed.

Police Inspectors Sam Hamilton and Mike Williams, who happened to be in the area, took Haynes into custody for investigation of robbery. He was taken to General Hospital for treatment of a fractured leg.

Food Spray Kills Boy

A 15-year-old Daly City youth died Thursday night after inhaling cooking oil fumes from a spray can.

Carlos A. Martinez, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gelbert Martinez, 83 Norwood Drive, was found dying in his bedroom by his father shortly after 11 p.m.

San Mateo Coroner's Office investigators said the youth died after inhaling a commercial cooking oil contained in a can. The oil coated his lungs, the coroner's office said.

Rodeo Set In Pacifica

The three-day Coastside Corral Rodeo will be held Aug. 31 and Sept. 1 and 2.

It will include rodeo events of calf roping, bull, bronc and bareback riding and girls' barrel racing with the top leading champions of the 1,000 members of the California Cowboys Association competing for cash awards.

The occasion will also include a chicken barbecue put on by the .243 Gun Club of San Bruno, and a barn dance on Saturday and Sunday evenings with live western music.

Running for Rodeo Princess is Sharie Barton of Lomita Park School. Winners of the competition will receive belt buckles and trophies.

DC Woman Stabbed In Dispute

A 22-year-old Daly City woman was reported in satisfactory condition Monday at Kaiser Hospital, South San Francisco, with a stab wound in the abdomen.

Police said the victim, Kathy Haning, was stabbed with a 10-inch pocket knife at her mother's home following an argument with her commonlaw husband over custody of the couple's small child.

The alleged assailant, John Durando, 28, is the subject of a widespread search by police who want to question him in connection with the stabbing.

According to a police spokesman, Durando and Miss Haning had been living together at 51 Chester St., Daly City, until last week when Miss Haning moved out following an argument.

Saturday, about 11:30 p.m. police said Durando visited Miss Haning's mother's home at 51 Risel Ave., Daly City, and the couple again argued.

It was during this argument that Durando allegedly plunged the knife in his victim's stomach and fled, police said.

Nature Study Class Offered

Jefferson Adult School will sponsor a course in nature study and taxidermy which will identify the birds and mammals of California and demonstrate museum taxidermy techniques.

The course will be held at 7 p.m. beginning Sept. 18.

NELL NORTON

Good morning, good cooks.

Cabbage is a vegetable that is somewhat neglected in our menu planning. We tend to think in terms of cole slaw or serving it boiled, with or without corned beef, overlooking its other possibilities. Thinking along these lines took me to my recipe files to see what new ways I could find for using this hardy vegetable.

This first recipe is for a new way of serving cabbage, but it comes from another era. It was noted in the recipe that it was a favorite of Queen Victoria. So if you would share the royal tastes, give this dish a try.

WINDSOR CABBAGE

5 cups shredded crisp green cabbage
2 Tablespoons butter
½ cup table cream
½ teaspoon salt
Black pepper to taste
½ cup grated Cheddar cheese

Place the five cups grated cabbage in a large skillet. Add the two tablespoons butter, one-half cup cream, (I used half and half.), one-half teaspoon salt and black pepper to taste. Cover and cook over moderate flame until cabbage is crispy-tender, about seven minutes.

Cover cabbage with one-half cup grated cheese, replace cover on pan and cook one minute. Turn off heat and allow to stand one minute. Serve at once, do not stir. Serves 4.

CABBAGE CASSEROLE

1 pound ground beef
1 small onion, chopped
2 medium carrpts, carrots, thin
1 can (8 oz.) tomatoc tomato ½ teaspoon garlic salt
Pepper to taste
4 cups shredded cabbage

Brown the pound ground beef. Add the chopped onion, sliced carrots, 8 ounces tomato sauce, half teaspoon garlic salt and pepper to taste. Cook until vegetables are tender. In covered casserole, alternate layers of raw cabbage with layers of meat and vegetable sauce. Cook covered in 375-degree oven about 45 minutes or until cabbage is tender. Serve with hot rice. Serves 4 generously.

Since the oven is hot from baking the cabbage casserole, why not be practical and make this easy coffee cake for dessert?

JAM DANDIES

2 cups biscuit mix
2/3 cup milk
2 Tablespoons sugar
Jam or jelly
¼ cup each sugar and chopped nuts
1 Tablespoon butter

Heat oven to 400 degrees.

Combine the two cups biscuit mix and two-thirds cup milk. Add two tablespoons sugar. (If dough is soft and sticky add a bit more biscuit mix so it is easy to handle.) Divide dough in half. Pat one half into bottom of 8-inch cake pan. Spread with your favorite jam or jelly. Pat out remaining dough to fit pan and place on top of jam. Combine the fourth cup each sugar and nuts and one tablespoon butter. Sprinkle over top of dough. Bake in 400-degree oven 20 to 25 minutes. Serve warm.

Skyline's Fall Program Issued

Recognizing that costs in entertainment and education are on the rise along with everything else, Skyline College's Community Services Office has put together a fall program which provides both variety and quality while keeping program fees in line, according to Community Services director David Marin.

"We want the people of North County to look more and more to Skyline College as their cultural and educational center," Marin noted. "This fall's programs are among the most enticing we have offered to date," Marin added.

"One of the most popular programs of several years back, 'The Play's the Thing,' is being repeated by popular request. Unforunately, a printing error in the fall brochure indicated the price for this program was $40. Actually, the registration fee for the entire four-part program is only $10, well in line with most of our other fees," the director commented.

Tom Fraley, Community Services assistant, who has been primarily responsible for putting the fall offerings together, is equally enthusiastic about the fall's offerings. "We have something for everyone," Fraley noted.

Among the varied offerings starting next month will be a nine-week sampling of "The Joys of Wine" including not only a laboratory of many of the world's finest wines but also weekly one-hour lectures covering history, technical background, legal/medical facts, and financial considerations of enology.

One unit of college credit is available for this Tuesday night lesson in viticulture to be held at the Shelter Creek Apartments in San Bruno. The fee is $40 for all nine classes which will begin Sept. 10.

Spectacular Alaska, picturesque Italy, and sunny Baja California will be featured in an Armchair Series scheduled to begin its three-week run Wednesday night, Sept. 11 in the Skyline College Main Theatre.

Guiding you through the lecture and slides of these photographic delights will be three Skyline College faculty members who have compiled the material through their own travels. The series fee will be $2 per adult and $1.25 for student or a single fee of $.75 for adults and $.50 for student.

The A to Z's of Fishing is being repeated by popular demand for those anxious to learn about fresh- and salt-water fishing. Larry Green, West Coast field editor for Field and Stream Magazine, will cover all the basics of spin-, plug-, and bait fishing in this six-week introduction to angling.

There is a series fee of $12 for the course which will begin Sept. 12 in Building 1, Room 111 at Skyline College. One unit of college credit is available.

Your dog will be responsive to gestures and verbal commands after only an eight-week enrollment in "Dog Obedience-Basic and Intermediate," taught by Daly City Police Sergeant Richard Seguine.

The dog must be at least six months old for this Saturday morning class which will hold its first meeting on Sept. 14 at Skyline College in Building 1, Room 111. The series fee is $18.

Community Services brochures containing application blanks are located in libraries throughout the North County and at Skyline College. You may also register in person at the Theatre Box Office between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. weekdays.

For details call 355-7000 extension 231.

Sex Counseling Unit Plans Orgasm Class

Two female group leaders from the Sex Counseling Unit, University of California Medical Center, San Francisco, are beginning a group for women who have never experienced orgasm.

The step-by-step program occurs in a small supportive group of eight women discussing and sharing feelings and experiences with the aim of learning to enjoy one's own body. The program is designed to provide information, correct misinformation and dispel common myths about female sexuality.

The course will begin Sept. 17, at the Center for Better Living, 45 Southgate Ave., Daly City The group will meet twice a week for five weeks on Tuesday and Thursday mornings.

The sliding fee for the program will depend on applicants' income and deductible expenses, and will be between $50 and $150 payable to the University of California Medical Center.

Interested women can call Marny Hall, M.S.W., Psychiatric Social Worker, at 873-1800, Ext. 271.

RENTA FASHIONS

Presbyterian Hospital Auxiliary of the Pacific Medical Center with Saks Fifth Avenue presented the Oscar de la Renta fashion show recently at a luncheon held in the Grand Ballroom of the St. Francis Hotel, at which designer de la Renta was commentator. Present at the event were (from left) Mrs. Marianne Reichel, Mrs. Thomas Fitch and Vivian Duncan of Duncan Sisters Fame of the Mills Estate. Mrs. Fitch donated one of her paintings as an award for the luncheon, and Hughes Airwest donated a round trip to Mazatlan.

Louanne Heath

Here, in the Bay Area, where we are fortunate enough to enjoy lovely fall weather, September can be a delightful time to hold a picnic!

Next month, right after the children return to their classrooms and the parks take on a relaxed and restful character, members of Pacifica's Fifty plus club will trek to the Crows Nest section of the Junipero Serra Park for their annual club picnic.

Sept. 7 has been selected for the event, and a number of club members are working hard to assure that the day will be a memorable one. Sam Dahlberg worked as the overall chairman until his recent illness and since that time many people have been volunteering their time and talents to get the annual outing organized.

The next regular meeting of the club will be Sept. 10, and plans for the New Years jaunt to Pasadena will be discussed.

Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, chairwoman of trips and outings, reports that the local contingent will stay at the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel for four nights, will spend one evening dining and dancing to the music of Lawrence Welk at the Hollywood Paladium and then attend a private New Year's Eve party. On New Year's Day the agenda calls for grand stand seats for the Rose Parade and a sightseeing tour of the Los Angeles area. Space on the one bus is almost filled, and anyone interested in joining the New Year's Party should call Mrs. Elizabeth Funderburg, 355-2184, immediately.

MRS. LOUISE ENBERG, executive director of the Friends Outside reports that the Foremost McKesson Task Force headed up a most successful trip to the Planetarium for the youthful members of Friend's Outside.

A picnic lunch was enjoyed by the children in the concourse area between the museum and the aquarium, and then the group moved inside to observe the feeding of the dolphins, tour the aquarium and then enjoy the planetarium. Carol Gordenstein of the Task Force crew was in charge of the project.

MRS. MILLIE Dunow reports that the members of the Mary's Help Hospital Guild executive board will be meeting for a planning session Sept. 11.

Members of the board will meet at 12:30 p.m. for a luncheon at the Ranch Inn in Serramonte. Plans for the Oct. 3 Mary's Help Hospital Guild Day at Serramonte Shopping Center will be presented, and final decisions concerning the fashion show and luncheon planned for that date will be made.

"THE ADVENTURESS" which sailed from Seattle to Victoria, B.C. earlier this month was "wo-manned" by a number of local Girl Scouts!

Pacifica's Mrs. Fern Dahlin was the director, and she was assisted by Denise Lapachet. Denise now is in her senior year at the University of California at Berkeley but she has been a Daly City Brownie troop leader and is now part of the adult staff of the Marinier Scout ship 13 led by Mrs. Margaret Damon.

Daly City scouts on the crew roster included Seona Connolly, Marian Fitzpatrick, Patti Byrnes, Laura Ridge and Ellen Ridge.

FROM GIRL Scouts to their male counterparts.

Thornton Jenkins has announced that Tom Dean will be the chief of the Serra district comporree to be held Oct. 19 and 20.

Dean and his staff already have selected a colorful camporee patch to be given to all scouts taking part in the annual camp and competition outing to be held at Huddart Park in Woodside.

Troop sign-ups and additional information will be sent troop leaders within the next few days.

BALLET STUDENTS

Ballet School Begins Fall Semester

During the week of Sept. 16, the Studio of Dance in Daly City will be starting the fall semester offering classes in pre-ballet, ballet technique and basic jazz.

During the week, the studio will welcome those who may be interested in dance to any of the scheduled classes.

While pre-ballet classes are for children ages 6 to 7, technique classes are for students 8 years and older, who will be placed according to ability. A beginner's jazz class will be offered to students age 8 to 12.

The Studio of Dance, under the direction of Grete Sorensen, offers students an academic approach to ballet and jazz with a prime interest in motivating students to appreciate dance movement as a totally healthful experience for young bodies and minds. Performing, although essential, is a secondary goal, and students are presented in a program of dance at the close of the spring semester.

Ballet classes will be taught by Mrs. Sorensen, a former faculty member of the San Francisco Ballet School and presently a dance consultant in San Mateo County's Special Education program for mentally retarded students.

Valerie Watson, with a background in jazz and modern dance, will offer students the opportunity of learning the basic isolations of jazz movement and their relation to the overall technique of that style of dance.

For details regarding class schedules and the "visitors week," call the studio at 756-6302.

Stolz-Oberholser Rites In Burlingame

Karen Lucille Stoltz and Arnold Dana Oberholser were married Saturday afternoon at the First Presbyterian Church in Burlingame.

The 1:30 p.m. rites were conducted by Dr. Thomas W. Gillespie, and followed by a reception at Aurora Hall in San Carlos. After greeting guests, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon in Hawaii before establishing a residence in San Mateo.

Karen is the daughter of Mrs. Lucille Stoltz of Pacifica. Her brother, Robert Stoltz gave her in marriage, and her sister, Peggy Sanchez of South San Francisco served as the matron of honor.

Jane Oberholser, of Burlingame, sister of the bridegroom, shared bridesmaid duties with Nancy Porter of South San Francisco and Regina Stoltz of San Francisco.

Rebecca Stoltz was the flower girl for her aunt's wedding, and Timothy Sanchez, the bride's nephew, carried the rings.

The bridegroom asked his brother, Larry Oberholster, to serve as best man. Ushers were Dennis Homer and Richard Schluter of San Mateo and Anthony Sanchez of South San Francisco.

The new matron was graduated from South San Francisco High School. Her husband has studied at Mills High School and the College of San Mateo. He has one other brother, Warren Oberholser. Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Oberholser of Sacramento, who attended the rites, are his grandparents.

Other wedding guests included Lt. Col. and Mrs. O. Arnold Sleep, of Vandenburg Air Force Base, the Dan Olsen family of San Jose and Mr. and Mrs. George Kolb of Delano.

Loyola Guild Sets First Term Meet

Loyola Guild will hold its first meeting of the new term, Sept. 6, at 1:45 p.m. in the University Center Lounge, U.S.F. campus. The Advisory Board will meet at 1 p.m. in Room 413.

Guest speaker will be Rev. Wm. J. Wood, S.J., of the Campus Ministry, who will speak on experiences and impressions in his work on "Clergy on the Line" — a religious talk-show heard on KGO ON Sunday evenings.

The Guild's officers for the coming year are: president, Mrs. Frank Kelechava; first vice-president, Mrs. Arthur Sullivan, Jr.; second vice-president, Mrs. Richard Onorato; recording secretary, Mrs. William Essig; financial secretary, Mrs. Fred Perata; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Leo Musso; and treasurer, Mrs. Louis Armanino.

Claudia Kephart Becomes Bride

The Crystal Springs Golf Club was the setting Saturday for the reception that followed the marriage of Claudia Anne Kephart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Austin Kephart of Burlingame, and Russell Ross Barrett III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ross Barrett Jr. of Daly City.

The couple was married at 12:30 p.m. at Our Lady of Angels Church in Burlingame. The Rev. Fergus Lawless officiated.

As Claudia and her father approached the altar, she was wearing an ivory colored gown of imported French silk organza with seed pearls on the sleeves and neckline and a bustled skirt. Her veil featured pearls and floral appliques.

The bride carried ivory baby roses, baby's breath and stephanotis.

Kimberley Kephart, her sister's maid of honor, wore a long halter gown of mint green dotted Swiss topped by a matching jacket. She added a white brimmed hat with daisy trim and streamers and carried a colonial spring bouquet.

The same gowns and flowers were chosen by Sharon Herren of Los Angeles and Cheryl Lyons of Fairfax, Claudia's cousin, who served as bridesmaids.

Dresses of yellow dotted Swiss with daisy trim were worn by Jennifer Lyons of Fairfax, who served as the junior bridesmaid, and Michelle Lyons of Fairfax, the flower girl. Both are cousins of the bride. Tommy DeLago Jr., nephew of the bridegroom, was the ring bearer.

Michael Menesin of San Francisco was best man, and guests were seated by Tom DeLago and Ray Lillo, both of Daly City.

At the reception, the couple's wedding cake was topped by the same decoration used by the bride's parents 25 years ago. The bride wore a gold cross that has been in her family and a gold baby ring from her bridegroom's family.

The new Mrs. Barrett attended Mills High School and the College of San Mateo. Her husband attended Jefferson High School and is a member of the San Francisco Motorcycle Club, the American Motorcycle Association and the Coastside Motorcycle Club.

The couple will live in San Bruno after a wedding trip to Reno and Lake Mendocino.

Beth Israel Judea Slates A Service of Forgiveness

Congregation Beth Israel Judea will hold a Selichot Service of Forgiveness on Sept. 14 at 10:30 p.m. in the Temple on Brotherhood Way, San Francisco. Following the service a reception will be tendered the congregation by the ladies of the Sisterhood. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Rabbi Elliot M. Bustein will be the guest at the Brotherhood Breakfast Meeting on Sept. 8. Breakfast will be at 10 a.m. at the Temple. The public is invited to attend.

A special Memorial Service will be held in the Garden Court of Salem Memorial Park, Colma Sept. 15 at 1:30 p.m. The service will be broadcast throughout the entire park. Officiating at the service will be Rabbi Herbert Morris, Rabbi Elliot M. Burstein, Emeritus, Cantor Salo Blumenthal, Warren Bauer, Cemetery Chairman and Martin A. Segol, President of Congregation Beth Israel Judea.

During the service the dedication of the new wing of the Mausoleum will be held.

Membership in Congregation Beth Israel Judea is open and family and single memberships are welcome. Included with membership are religious school and Hebrew school for children. High Holy Day seating and lifecycle services.

BIJ Sisterhood will hold its Paid-up Membership Luncheon Sept. 10 in Fellowship Hall at 11:30 a.m. Al Rudolph of Rudolph Interiors will be at the Temple on Brotherhood Way to show an unusual selection of fine draperies.

Hickory Farms OF OHIO Choice of Himalayan Mountain Climbers

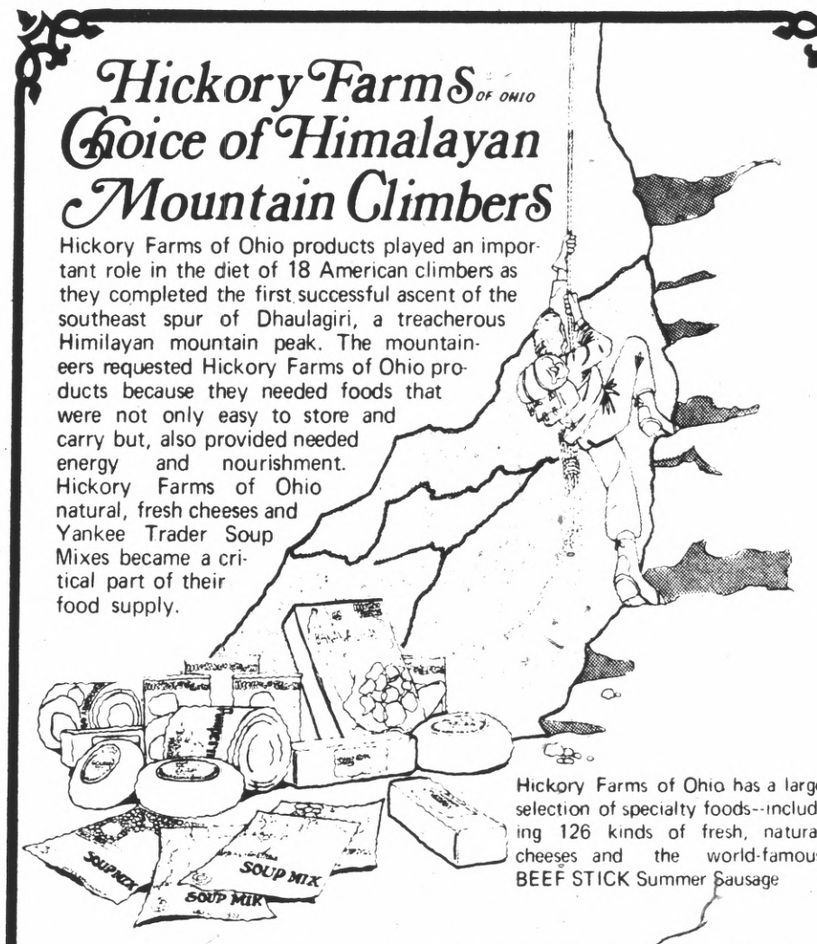
Hickory Farms of Ohio products played an important role in the diet of 18 American climbers as they completed the first successful ascent of the southeast spur of Dhaulagiri, a treacherous Himilayan mountain peak. The mountaineers requested Hickory Farms of Ohio products because they needed foods that were not only easy to store and carry but, also provided needed energy and nourishment. Hickory Farms of Ohio natural, fresh cheeses and Yankee Trader Soup Mixes became a critical part of their food supply.



Hickory Farms of Ohio has a large selection of specialty foods--including 126 kinds of fresh, natural cheeses and the world-famous BEEF STICK Summer Sausage.

NOTE!!!

Mayors' Council Urges Uniform Animal Control Ordinance

A uniform animal control ordinance for all cities won the unanimous endorsement of the San Mateo County Council of Mayors meeting in Burlingame Friday night despite some misgivings by Mayor James S. Williams of Redwood City.

Although the mayors were to hear proposals for "improving city building codes," the scheduled speakers of the evening — Tom Hunter, business manager of Local 467 of the Plumbers Union, and Douglas B. Guy of Advertising & Marketing, Inc., failed to appear.

Williams criticized the proposed uniform animal control ordinance for the "swiftness" of its presentation. He said that specific penalties were not spelled out. John Regan, general manager of the Peninsula Humane Society, answered that each city could modify sections to meet its own needs.

Mayor McRobert L. Stewart of Daly City, chairman of the mayors's council, explained that each city could tailor provisions of the general ordinance to its own needs.

Daly City City Manager David Rowe replied, "Not many people have gone to jail, but this provides that a person can be cited for an infraction of the law."

Among the provisions of the new ordinance are:

—No one shall allow any animal in any public place except when on a leash.

—No animal shall be allowed to run at large, nor to trespass on private property, to bark excessively, continuously or emit other noises in an untimely manner, to be exercised or exhibited on public or private property when such animal is in season so as to constitute a public nuisance, or to be without proper and adequate food, water, shelter.

The ordinance also makes it illegal to "keep any fowl, reptile or other animal which normally lives in a wild habitat and is a curiosity to the local community or domesticated at the time of its keeping without first applying for and receiving a permit to do so."

Recreation

Recreate: to create anew.

Recreation: a recreating, a refreshment of strength and spirits.

Recreation Department: a division of local government that aids citizens in the refreshment of their powers.

At the heart of the activities of the Recreation Department lies a broad summer program with action for every group from the cradle set to those who are wrinkled and rheumy-eyed with age.

Look at what's been offered in 1974: a frisbee fling, hula hoop whirl, Indian crafts including instruction in how to make moccasins and totem poles as well as pump drills, puzzle pouches and beads.

High on the list has been the summer theatre, in its fifth year, with two plays: "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum" and "Due to Lack of Interest — Tomorrow Has Been Cancelled."

The latter was a fairy tale that graced the Little Theatre at Westmoor High School Aug. 22, 23, and 24. It was set in Cricket Corners, U.S.A. and featured the problems that beset crickets when their apathy allowed bugs from other towns to plague them with witches and loud mouths.

As crickets the 20 or so Daly City children who were in the cast, sang and danced to the delight of the audience. Donna Forman as Granny Goodmother was as cute as a china doll. Scott Molver as Ezekial, the mayor, was as puffy as a cheesecake.

As the not so evil witch, Judy Miller was delightful as she sought a prince to change her name from Witchamajigger only to accept Keith Ayoob who was playing the part of a servant named Whatchamacallit.

As Jeremy Cricket and Thumby, Steve Price and Susan Palmer led the crickets to learn that, among bugs as well as men, there is more to be gained from kind words and trust than from bickering and name calling. Their performances as well as that of the whole cast and the orchestra is another tribute to that amazing young man, Ron Wells, who directed the production.

Daly City Dancers and baton twirlers from the dance program and the baton classes became the toast of the afternoon of Daly City Day at the San Mateo County Fair. After their performance, the patrons of the fair moved from exhibit to exhibit whistling "Marze-Doats" and/or some other song that was featured in the dance presentation.

All summer long, the recreation department's program included baseball excitement in every playground. There was a summer basketball league. Adult dance instruction, judo and yoga classes; pottery making and oil-painting were among the summer's leading activities in Daly City. Added to these were the year-round activities of the chess club, garden club, senior citizens and rock hounds. They all helped to make Mayor McRobert Stewart's words a reality.

"Our City's greatest wealth is not to be found in material things, but rather in the individuals that make the community. Your City Council, within available resources, has tried to provide an environment that allows people and especially the young to develop to the maximum."

Yet to come is the Exciting End of Summer Carnival and Olympics which will be held at Westlake Park on Aug. 29. The theme will be "The Fifties."

Don't miss it.

And still to come will be the long awaited dedication of the Westmoor Swimming Pool.

Hospital Guild Plans Day at Serramonte

The fourth annual Mary's Help Hospital Guild Day at Serramonte will be Oct. 3 from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Throughout the day Guild members in pink uniforms will man display booths and greet shoppers at participating stores. The Guild will share the day with other community health services.

A special attraction will be a luncheon fashion show at the Ranch Inn with cocktails at 11:30 a.m. followed by a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Guild members will model the latest styles from many of the center's stores. Frank Dill from KNBR will be master of ceremonies.

The merchants have been generous in donating valuable prizes. Awards to be presented include a weekend trip for two at Mission Tesora, Los Banos donated by Monroy Enterprises, Inc.; $150 cash from Mary's Help Hospital Guild; a 12-in. black and white solid state TV from Macy's; a 12-in. black and white TV from Montgomery Wards; frozen foods from QFI. There will be many additional prizes. Proceeds will help the Guild to fulfill its pledge of $300,000 towards the Hospital's expansion fund.

Mrs. Cal Dunow will serve as general chairwoman. Assisting her will be Mrs. Milton Gaffigan, president Others are Mms. Thomas Stanghellini, Victor Dowdle, Ben Cardinalli, James Cranna, Jerry Stringer, Mc Robert Stewart, Henry Przboroski, Jack Pfister, Gene Crandall, Norman Cyrs, William Lindsay, William Corbett, Wayne Mc Coy, director of volunteers; Barbara Christensen, director of community relations and Center.

Investment tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Thomas Stanghellini, 733-0357 or from the hospital gift shop. For luncheon reservations, contact Mrs. Victor Dowdle, 731-5954 or Mrs. Cal Dunow, 756-2419.

Teachers Mull SSF Pay Hike

A clear majority of South San Francisco teachers, surveyed by the Certificated Employees Council, have indicated they would accept the distinct trustees' salary increase proposal, which includes a 4 per cent pay boost and 24 "working conditions" provisions.

The survey results represent a reversal of sentiments expressed at a CEC meeting in May, when a majority of teachers rejected the pay increase offer, but approved the non-monetary elements of the package.

At that time, however, trustees refused to separate the monetary and non-monetary provisions, saying they were all an integral part of the give-and-take of negotiations.

On Aug. 15, after months of negotiations between teacher representatives and the district staff failed to produce an agreement on a total salary increase package, trustees approved the first reading of the 24 "working conditions" provisions.

Board members at that time chose to postpone approval of the salary increase offer until a survey of teacher sentiments could be made.

Although trustees for months repeatedly had heard complaints from teachers that the district's salary increase offer was unacceptable, board members believed those who complained did not represent the opinion of most teachers in the district.

Trustees asked the CEC to mail letters to all teachers asking them if they would accept the board's offer of a 4 per cent increase in pay, plus any extra state and/or federal funds the district may receive.

At Monday night's meeting, Betty Avila, vice chairman of the CEC, reported to the board that of the 510 ballots the CEC received, 308 reported they would accept the total package, 196 said they would reject it and six returned blank ballots.

Mrs. Avila said about 60 per cent of the teachers responded to the survey. There are 664 teachers in the distric..

The board asked Mrs. Avila to request the CEC Council to vote on the package, in light of the survey results, and report its decision to the board by late this week

Mrs. Avila indicated after the meeting, she expected the council to accept the package. It also is expected that the board will approve the salary proposal.

"In the beginning, many of the teachers believed that if they held out they would get a lot more money than the mere 4 per cent increase offered by the board," said Mrs. Avila.

"Now that school's about to begin, I think, most of them (teachers) feel they're not going to get more than what's been offered, and they feel 4 per cent is better than nothing," she said.

Besides the pay boost, the package includes three major non-monetary provisions including a teacher preparation period, a transfer policy and an "additional duties" policy.

Fourth, fifth and sixth grade teachers will be guaranteed a 40-minute preparation period every other school day to plan classroom activities. Also, if the salary proposal is approved, all teachers must be consulted by a school principal before being transferred to another school. Furthermore, the proposal states that all secondary teachers "will have a voice" in the assignment of any "additional duties" after regular school hours.

Those duties could include chaperoning and monitoring of school sponsored activities.

Beef Prices Down

Rough Auction For S.M. Youths

By JOHN HORGAN

Sheila McNamara of Montara spent the better part of a year preparing a steer for the annual auction at the San Mateo County Fair.

As a Coastside member of the Future Farmers of America, the 1974 auction was to be her first experience in the agricultural marketplace.

Unfortunately, things didn't turn out quite the way she had expected them to. She lost about $200 on her animal. And so did a number of other youngsters.

The reason? Adverse economic factors which have hammered the beef industry nationwide.

"Prices were high when we bought our calves last fall," Sheila, 16, said this week.

"Feed cost a lot too. They say the Russian wheat deal didn't help. And, when it came down to selling our animals, prices were low because the market was falling off."

Roger Mitchell, the man in charge of the fair's auction this year, generally agrees with Sheila's analysis.

"A lot of the kids took a financial bath this year," he explained. "This is typical of what's been happening to sellers this year. Feed went up about 200 per cent and, when the kids bought their animals, they paid a high price per pound for them."

Mitchell, who lives in Foster City, estimated that perhaps as many as 200 youngsters sent animals through this year's auction at the county fairgrounds in San Mateo.

And, he said, of 77 head of cattle sent through, about 60 per cent of those represented a loss for their youthful owners, all of them members of either the Future Farmers of America or 4-H Clubs from around the county.

"We try to eliminate losses," Mitchell said, "but the kids know they are in a field where losses are possible. This is a learning process for them. We strive to have the kids at least break even so they can continue in agriculture. We want them to come back in following years."

Mitchell said the averge loss on steers probably ran from $150 to $200. "But that's probably being conservative," he admitted.

Losses on lambs and sheep were minimal, he said.

He pointed out that the average price per pound for a head of cattle was 95 cents; for sheep, $1.31.

James Mordecai, the director of the Future Farmers of America on the Coastside, says that at least 70 youngsters lost from $100 to $500 at the fair. He is not pleased about it.

"I'm pretty hot about this whole thing," he said. "There have been mistakes made all around and, of course, the economic factors didn't help either."

It is Mordecai's contention that fair officials didn't prepare adequately for this year's auction. He says disorganization created a situation which produced a lack of beef buyers at auction time.

"The butchers hurt the kids too," he stated. "They were charging 20 cents per pound to cut and wrap the animals. There was a $15 killing charge as well. That scares off some potential buyers. There seemed to be an attitude of 'let's make money off the kids.' A lot of kids got hurt."

Mordecai said, "There was a lack of communication this year. Too many people just sat on their laurels and figured that the auction would be in the top three in the state again when it came to prices. Well, maybe it was. But those economic faactors still meant the kids would take a loss. I don't think this sort of thing will happen again."

Mordecai estimated that 90 per cent of the youngsters in the beef auction lost money.

That is symptomatic of what has been occurring to cattlemen nationwide.

There is an oversupply of beef cattle, brought on partly by cattlemen who withheld steers from the marketplace during the federal government's Phase Four price freeze.

Prices for beef are expected to rise soon. A drought in the Midwest has ruined part of this year's corn crop and the U.S. Deprtment of Agriculture has estimated that there will be a 12 per cent decrease in the 1974 corn crop.

The price of fertilizers is also rising.

Youngsters like Sheila McNamara have come to understand why they lost money this year.

"I've talked to a lot of people about this and I've been told that something like this was bound to happen at least once in a decade. They say it probably won't happen again."

Says Sheila, "I know that I'll be more careful next time."

This steer owner hopefully awaits a strong bid for her animal during recent San Mateo County Fair livestock auction.

AARP Plans Meeting in Daly City

The Daly City Area Chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) will meet at 2 p.m. Aug. 31 at the United Methodist Church, 1474 Southgate Avenue, Daly City.

Program Director Dorothy Arnold has engaged Tim Healy of Pacifica who will show travel pictures of the Orient featuring "A Vacation on the Oriental Jade."

A social hour at 1 p.m. will precede the meeting.

Membership in the AARP is open to all persons 55 years of age or older and residents of Daly City, Colma, Pacifica and South San Francisco.

Chemistry Class

Monday, Sept. 16, an introductory course in inorganic and basic organic chemistry will be offered by the Jefferson Adult School. This course offers a background for entry into para medical and technical careers.

Tax Cut Voted for Pacificans

Allocation of $237,725 to fund a 25-cent tax cut was approved Monday by the Pacifica City Council.

The council members set aside the funds to reduce the tax rate from $2.32 to $2.07.

Originally, a 30-cent tax reduction was proposed, but allocations to other categories from an $980,000 opening balance for the 1974-75 fiscal year left enough only for the 25-cent slice.

The sum approximates the funds derived from the transfer of sewer maintenance and operations from the operations fund to the sewer service charge, officials explained.

Other allocations included $200,000 for fiscal reserve, $9,000 for an additional Civil Defense appropriation, $125,000 to participate in sanitary sewer system reconstruction or modification to abate recurring overflows in the Crespi and Monterey Drive areas and for San Pedro Creek improvements, $50,000 to develop social services for the community, $27,212 to balance the 1974-75 budget and $211,000 for the Capital Improvement fund to develop a Civic Center and/or Corporation Yard.

City Manager David Thompson said the $980,000 was gained through "stringent fiscal control, careful management and the ascertaining of economies wherever possible."

He also credited "astute investment programs."

Scout Show

Scouting Showcase Chairman Don Zyski announces that Jack Hayhurst will be in charge of arrangements during the month of August. Zyski is expected to resume committee meetings in September.

Other committee members planning the Sept. 28-29 local celebration of scouting on the Serramonte Shopping Center Mall, include Lloyd Sears, William Proctor, Ted Valoria and Frank Arbues in addition to Zyski and Hayhurst.

THE POST'S SPORTS

Le Pacini

The Old PCL

The more we watch the deluted rosters of today's big league baseball teams spring into action, the more we appreciate the old Pacific Coast League we knew as youngsters, when the PCL was literally a third major league . . . or at least some parts of it. And, logically, the more we appreciate what some of the PCL stars could do.

We are, of course, of the wrong age group to get poetic over the Vean Greggs and Pard Balous and Ike Boones and Smead Jolleys and Oscar Eckhardts and Jigger Statzes and Evar Swansons, but:

We've never seen an outfielder better at coming in on a ball then Bernie Uhalt, a Seal center fielders who regularly took line singles away from hitters by sliding in on the ball on his rear end and picking the ball off half an inch before it reached the turf. And "Frenchy" was 36 when we saw him do it, already over the hill after a cup of coffee in 1934 with the White Sox.

We never saw a first baseman better at 1) chasing a foul ball into the stands 2) covering a bunt 3) making the first to second to first DP, 4) throwing the runner from second out as he advanced to third on a grounder to the first baseman, than . . . you guessed it. Ferris Fain, the Seal first sacker.

We never saw a right fielder better than the old Seal, Neil "Big Buffalo" Sheridan, at running down a sinking liner in foul territory. He would often end up in the seats, and occasionally bounce out to cut down a startled base runner with that magnificently powerful arm of his. Or throw the ball back into the stands, trying to do same. He was often exasperating, but colorful, and oh, if he could only have hit a curve.

We never saw a shortstop with nearly as good an arm as former Seal Roy Nicely, the .198 hitter who was so fluid he used to ooze out to his position. For those who don't remember him, he could — and always did — go into the hole after a ball, grab it on the outfield grass, and then, from that bent-over, off-balance position, get rid of the ball literally from where he stopped it and, with seemingly no more than a flick of the wrist, get it across the diamond, accurately, and with a whole lot on it. We've never talked to a scout or any other baseball man who ever saw Nicely perform on a regular basis, who didn't say that he wasn't the best on that play they ever saw in ANY league.

WE'VE NEVER SEEN an outfielder better than an Angel center fielder named Cecil Garriott at going back on a ball and climbing a wall for it.

We've never seen a better pitching prospect than Bob Chesnes, another Seal who hurt his arm the season before

Local 15-Year-Old Wins Cypress Tourney

Marty Giannini, 15, of Pacifica, shot a 136 for the two-day tournament at Cypress Hills Country Club recently. He won the tournament by three strokes over his nearest rival, Ed Luethke, Los Altos, who had a 139.

The tournament was co-sponsored by the Cypress Hills Men's Club and the Daly City Host Lions Club. This was the eighth annual tournament. There were 210 participants, both boys and girls, from seven to 17 years of age.

Marty competed against boys up to 17 years of age. Tim Albrecht, Daly City, also 15 years old, placed second in his flight with a 140.

In the 17-year bracket, Mike Romero, Daly City, had to sink a wedge shot for an eagle on the eighteenth hole to win a spot in the playoff. The top four in his age group all had 140s and Mike came in third in the playoff. Scott Weisgerber of Burlingame won the nine and under flight with 89 blows for 18 holes.

Members of both the Cypress Hills Ladies Clubs kept score for the 13 years and under groups and also helped in the refreshment booth where over 1,000 hot dogs, soft drinks, candies, bananas, snacks and hard boiled eggs were served to the hungry golfers.

Highlight of the tournament was a hole-in-one by Mike Modesti, 13, on the 159-yard fifth hole using a five iron.

Dr. Fred Williams, tournament director, announced that participants came from Fresno, Stockton, Sacramento and Salinas. He further commented that over 50 entries had to be returned due to the field being limited to 210 players.

Millbrae Wins State Joe DiMaggio Title

By STEVE JOHNSON
Post Correspondent

SAN JOSE — Fans here for the State Joe DiMaggio Baseball Tourney at PAL Stadium got their fill of heat over the weekend.

The sun, however, wasn't the main source of it.

That came from a torrid Millbrae offense that didn't let up until Millbrae had become the first team in eight years of DiMaggio play to win back-to-back State titles.

Millbrae, which completed a four-game tourney sweep Sunday with a 10-3 bombardment of San Jose, scored 33 total runs and posted a team batting average of .327 (35-107).

"We just jelled at the right time," said Millbrae coach Tony Santora, whose squad finished with a 30-6 over-all record. "The better the competition got, the better this team got."

Five Millbrae players made the all-tourney team: John Tulich, Ralph Costanzo, Bob Warfield, Barney Malpass and Jay Kiernan.

Costanzo, who just turned 17, was named MVP. He went 8-15 in the tourney, with four RBIs. His pitching win Saturday night gave him a 10-1 mark for the season.

"He's a great athlete," said Santora, "but I think baseball will be his game. He's got a good chance of being drafted next year. He's one of the best players I've ever had."

Kiernan and Malpass were added from Mid-League rival San Mateo after Millbrae whipped SM in their playoffs.

Kiernan won three post-season games for Millbrae, including two in San Jose. Malpass had five hits in the State and delivered the go-ahead hit Sunday.

Tulich almost personally won a 3-1 decision over San Jose Thursday night and Warfield was a team spark-plug in the field and at the plate.

Other Millbrae tourney heroes were Jack Ferrari, who collected six hits, and Mike Giusti, whose bases-loaded double keyed a comeback against Larkspur in the semi-finals.

Millbrae, by the way, should be able to keep the heat going just as high next summer.

Although key players like Ferrari, Tulich and Tom Frederico depart, 11 vets can return — led by Costanzo.

Lunny to Fight Aurelio Muniz

Boxing promoter Babe Griffin, after combing the hinterlands, has finally come up with a suitable opponent for unbeaten Redwood City Lightweight Ray Lunny III.

Griffin, who has trouble finding work for Lunny, has inked Aurelio Muniz for a September 18th bout at the Circle Star Theatre.

"I've been trying for over a month to get Ray an opponent," stated the chagrined Griffin. "But there just aren't any talented fighters around.

"Jimmy Haeir is having managerial troubles and has headed for Australia for a fight," he noted.

The veteran Muniz has been around for some eight years, but has only fought once in California. He whipped Love Allotey at San Jose in 1971.

Muniz won the featherweight championship of Mexico in 1967, but lost the crown later that year to former world's champion Vincente Garcia.

Muniz boasts a 28-2-11 record. He reportedly had three fights this year, winning all three. He will arrive in the United States the Sunday prior to the Wednesday fight.

Lunny, meanwhile, has been in constant training since returning from the Marine reserves in early July. The former San Carlos High School grad defeated Buzzsaw Yamabe July 2 at the Cow Palace in his last ring appearance.

Lunny's record now stands at 17-0-2.

he went to the majors by fielding a bunt down the third base line and throwing off balance. Yet, with a bad shoulder, he won 14 games in his freshman year with a clown Pittsburgh team. But two more partial seasons, and he was through. Chesnes was a marvelous athlete who had as much stuff as anybody has ever had, could hit (he had been a shortstop at the beginning of his career), field his position, run the bases, and had all the confidence a class athlete should have

When a team, such as the Giants, has as few homeruns as they do, and insist on batting their leading homerun hitter lead-off, then it seems to us that they should regularly play a homerun hitter, such as Dave Kingman, who — as brief as his career admittedly is — had going into this season one of the highest homerun to times at bat ratios in the game.

Ed Goodson is one helluva singles hitters, but we can't see him ever driving in more than 80 runs, or staying healthy for a full season, for that matter. He's a mediocre fielder, a detriment on the base paths, and can't throw. He would belong on the old Giant teams that hit 150-200 homers a season, and needed men on base to drive in. But a singles hitter can't do a powerless team much good. Goodson should be designated hitter for a homerun hitting team.

FOR STATISTICS BUFFS: Add to underrated pitchers list Tom Murphy, right handed Milwaukee reliever. Murphy has only a 4-4 record, but is up among the major league leaders in saves, has a 1.64 ERA, and, more amazingly, has allowed an average of only 4.7 hits per nine innings pitched! Yet, no national publicity at all. The former Angel, K.C. and St. Louis vet (he's in his seventh big league year) had previous to this season, working primarily as a starter, compiled only a 44-63 record with an ERA of 3.78.

And would you believe that at this point in the season the Reds have a better team ERA than the A's?

Speaking of the old, old, PCL, you can win a bar bet by asking if anyone knows what the record number of hits for a single season is in that league. Nobody will ever guess 325. That's what Paul Strand whacked out for Salt Lake in 1923. Other highes are 323 (Ike Boone, Missions, 1929), 315 (Oscar Eckhardt, Missions, 1933), 309 (Lefty O'Doul, Salt Lake, 1925), 309 (Smead Jolly, Seals, 1928), and 307 (Bert Ellison, Seals, 1924).

cf10IF YOU'RE STILL interested in the NFL players' strike, we have an opinion on one facit of it. We guess that owners will at least partially defray losses from refunds they had to give on the exhibition games by dropping fringe vets and their relatively high salaries, and, naturally, taking on rookies and free agents with their relatively low salaries.

SUDDEN THOUGHT: The 49ers (especially if you saw that Denver game), Warriors and Giants could all exchange uniforms and nobody would ever know the difference. They all have natural talent, lose the same way; mostly through stupidity and indifference.

Karate Competition at Serramonte High

Over 1,500 people crowded Serramonte High School's gymnasium for the West Coast Karate Competition Aug. 4. Jerome Reitenbach, chief instructor of the Daly City Taekwon-Do Studio, and Steve LaBounty, chief instructor of the San Francisco School of Karate, merged to host the tournament.

When the official opening came for the tournament, competitors lined up under the spotlights of the gymnasium anxiously awaiting their "two-minute" chance to win. It was 10:30 a.m. when the first two competitors entered the ring to oust their rivals.

Approximately 500 competitors vied for 76 trophies. Both Reitenbach and LaBounty provided a more specific breakdown in divisions to offer more trophies. So that the younger contestants would have a fairer competition, there was a pee-wee diviion 8 to 10 years, two boys' free-style divisions 11 to 13, and 14 to 16, and two girls' free-style divisions 11 to 12, and 13 to 15. Even the women competitors had a better chance when there was a breakdown of light and heavy weights both in the white belt and brown and black belt divisions. It became more attractive when the women entered the kata division and found they would be competing amongst their own sex.

Eliminations lasted through the day. As the belt ranks got higher, competition became keener. At finals time in the evening, most of the participants had gone through exhausting sessions. Few were injured, while the more fortunate ones conserved their energy for the upcoming events.

The most outstanding performance of the tournament was a demonstration by Sid Campell, famed Okinawan instructor, and his loyal and supporting students. Dennis Ingram, a student Black Belt, demonstrated the movements of the nunchakus, the damage they cause, and the reality of calling them deady weapons.

Suddenly all heads turned when the bo demonstration began. The attacks, the klick-klacks of the contact between the sticks were sharp and exact when Ingram protected himself by swiftly moving the bo and warding off his assailants. The soaring noise of the bo whipping through the air, sat spectators on the edge of their seats.

Immediately following the demonstratinn the final elimination bouts began. Spectators saw both the orthodox and the unorthodox techniques by the fighters. Some techniques were so exciting, they induced laughter and boos from the audience. The fighters worked themselves into fighting moods, while the enthusiastic crowd cheered on. Most of the matches went into sudden death playoff.

The tournament was narrated by Reitenbach until he lost hs voice during the finals and LaBounty covered the microphone. In order for the referees and judges not to become fatigued, there were enough Black Belts present from the Northern California Karate Referee's Association and Senseis from the many schools to help.

Later in the evening, the Daly City Mayor McRobert Stewart, and Mr. Reitenbach presented the trophies. It was a first time event for Mayor Stewart to attend such a function, even though he is a sports enthusiast.

This tournament brought a lot of attention to Daly City residents and merchants. For weeks the community anticipated the tournament and welcomed the competitors with anxiety and enthusiasm. Reitenbach and LaBounty assured the Mayor and the residents, more tournaments will be sponsored in the area.

Doctor Says Jogging Is 'for the Birds'

By JOHN HORGAN

Each week, Homer Zugelder had been running as much as 35 miles.

Zugelder, a counselor at Hillsdale High School in San Mateo, did most of his jogging along streets in that city.

Early this summer, however, he had to quit. A disc in his back gave out, causing numbness to spread down his left leg. Shortly thereafter, he spent 17 days in traction at Mills Memorial Hospital.

He has been told by his doctor that jogging is now a no-no.

"While jogging may not have been the primary cause of what happened to me," says Zugelder, "it almost certainly lent a helping hand."

His physician, San Mateo orthopedic surgeon Dr. Thomas Lewis, agrees.

"I don't tell people they must not jog," he explaines, "but I think that jogging as an exercise is for the birds."

Lewis, a physician for 35 years, says it can also be dangerous.

In the past three or four years, he has seen and treated perhaps as many as 50 patients who have come to his offices with some form of jogging-related trouble.

The joggers' problems range from stress fractures of the feet and legs to the sort of back ailments exemplified by Zugelder.

While readily admitting that there are cardiovascular and psychological benefits to be derived from jogging, Lewis offers that the "good effects are generally outweighed by the bad."

He adds that, "I think that most orthopedic surgeons agree with me on this."

Lewis finds that, often, those who are affected most adversely by running — particularly on hard surfaces — are persons who have not been exercising consistently and who have taken up the discipline after a long period of relative inactivity.

Many of these people are somewhat paunchy.

The net result can be painful stress on such key joints as the knee and the hip and on the back.

"Jogging is just not a natural way to get about," Lewis complains. For many of his back patients, Lewis recommends walking instead of running.

"I tell my patients to utilize a program of graded walking which can get them up to five miles a day," he says. Zugelder is currently working his way toward that goal.

"Walking is a natural exercise," points out Lewis. "With jogging, there is always that bang-bang-bang pressure as the foot strikes the ground. That leads to joint and tissue damage."

Lewis says that, "Walking can give you all the benefits of running without the hazards."

Lewis, who skis and plays tennis and racquetball, admits that someone in terrific shape who has been running all his life can probably better stand the rigors of road work.

However, he says, "If you got hold one of those people and examined them carefully, you'd probably find signs of some problems."

Lewis tempers his negative opinions about jogging by noting that an occasional jog as a supplement to other forms of physical exertion might not be all bad.

It is habitual jogging on hard surfaces which bothers him.

And, again, he states that, "I'm not trying to tell people how to run their own lives."

But, his advise is simple: "Walk, don't run.

Glenesk In USSR

Former Mills High, College of San Mateo and Chico State cross-country ace Neil Glenesk departed for Moscow Monday for the World Games, which will be held through Sept. 4.

Glenesk, who finished fourth in the United States Senior Modern Pentathlon championships earlier this month at San Antonio, Tex., is the youngest member of the U.S. team at 21.

Glenesk competed in an international meet in Switzerland. Modern Pentathlon competition includes swimming, fencing, shooting, riding and cross-country running.

Brother Mark Glenesk took 13th in the junior National at San Antonio, while Dean cpatured second place in the Novice Division.

Fremont Hosts Kaeding Race

A total of 125 entries have been filed for the third annual Herb Kaeding Memorial Race, which will be held Thursday at the Fremont Raceway in Fremont.

Drivers will compete on the three-eighths mile dirt road course, with sprint buggies and super sport sedans highlighting the racing.

Practice starts at 6 p.m., with the first race scheduled for 8.

This Week's Suggestion For

THE PERFECT HOST

Sebastiani Green Hungarian Wine is a distinctively fruity, semi-dry, and fragrant white wine. It is considered a varietal wine because the Green Hungarian Grape is its primary source. This wine is light golden in color but has a greenish hue. It is pleasingly tart, but retains a touch of natural sweetness.
At $2.29 this wine would be a superb compliment to the mild cheese that is featured this week. A three hour chilling period is recommended.

Planners Urge Barbed Wire Ban be Lifted

The Pacifica Planning Commission Aug. 19 adopted a resolution, 4-3, supporting the lifting of city prohibitions against barbed wire fencing on residential property.

Prohibitions against the use of the wire has been objected to by members of the Animal Advisory Commission, which wanted to have barbed wire as a fencing alternative when considering the issuance of animal permits for keeping livestock and horses.

It has been claimed by the commission that it is difficult to build a strong fence that will effectively contain livestock with materials other than barbed wire at a reasonable cost.

The Animal Advisory Commission was requesting a change in the barbed wire requirements through a revised Animal Control Ordinance that still must be approved by the City Council.

There were two elements to the planning commission vote.

First, an addition would be added to the municipal code that states that barbed wire could not be installed in the city unless the Animal Advisory Commission approved its use for horses and livestock.

Secondly, the resolution requested that the municipal code section stating that "It is unlawful for any person to place or maintain barbed wire fences in districts zoned R-1, R-2, R-3, R-3.1, R-5. C-1A, C-R or P-D" be deleted.

If the council approves the revised ordinance, the Animal Advisory Commission would have the discretionary power to decide when barbed wire fencing would be acceptable on residential property.

Voting for the resolution was Chairman George Edsell, James Brush, Fred Howard, and J. Bradford Pringle. Opposed were Kenneth Grobman, Joseph Greene, and Eleanore McGuire.

Among the reasons cited by those members who voted against the resolution were objection to barbed wire fencing, a fear that the safety and esthetic considerations might not be emphasized enough when residents apply to use the wire, and a feeling that other type of fencing could be put up even if it costs more.

In other action, the planning commission:

✓Approved a minor modification requirement by Rick Noronha and Mrs. Noronha regarding a proposed garage at 1145 Manzanita Dr., subject to conditions that bring the garage up to city building code.

✓Approved a permit for site development by David J. Rivera to permit exterior alterations to Brentwood Market in the Pacific Manor Shopping Center. The project involves remodeling the front and rear of the market. Work on the front includes the relocation of doors, replacement of walls and glass and the building of a roofed arcade. Work on the rear of the building is related to construction of a room to house a compressor and other refrigeration equipment.

✓Approved a use permit to Edward C. Cordero for the establishment, maintenance and operation of a small accessory parking lot to the adjoining automobile dealership and a small office building at 155 Milagra Dr.

✓Continued to Sept. 16, a decision on a use permit by Public Storage, Inc. for the establishment of miniwarehouse storage units with a resident manager-caretaker, located at 1295 Palmetto Ave. The applicant had requested a continuance to allow further time to pursue site plan revisions as suggested by the commission.

✓Extended the variance at the request of the applicant regarding planned construction of a single-family residence at 1241 Springwood Way. The applicant, Andrew C. Turner, asked for the further extension of the variance first granted Feb. 19 because he was unable to start the building within the required 180 days. Since the approval expires Aug. 19, it was necessary to ask for the renewal.

✓Dropped from the agenda a variance to permit the creation of two substandard lots 3,760 square feet from three substandard lots at the southeasterly corner of Beaumont Blvd. at Edna Lane. The commission had continued the item three times to allow the applicant time to submit plans on how the lots might be developed. Since no plans had been filed with the planning staff, the item was dropped. The applicant, Carl W. Hess, may reapply for the variance, it was explained.

New Name for S. Bruno Mountain Community

"Crocker Hills" will be the name of the new community planned by Visitacion Associates on property adjacent to San Bruno Mountain in Northern San Mateo County.

The name was chosen because it reflects the history of the property, according to Robert L. Follett, general manager of Visitacion Associates, a land development joint venture of Foremost-McKesson and Amfac subsidiaries.

During the community's initial planning stages the name, Visitacion Rancho, was used by the developer. This name came from the original Spanish land grant covering the property, "Canada de Guadalupe, Visitacion y Rodeo Viejo." The land was granted in 1836 to Jacob P. Leese, a naturalized Mexican citizen.

Visitacion Associates has filed for an amendment to the General Plan of San Mateo County for the purpose of building a planned community of 9,690 homes, recreational, commercial and light industrial facilities.

Voter Signups Urged

Assemblyman Louis J. Papan (D-San Mateo County) this week urged all unregistered voters to sign up to vote.

Statewide figures incidate that five million eligible Californians will not be able to vote in the Nov. 5 general election because they have not yet registered.

"Because of the disturbing events both in Washington and Sacramento recently, some people seem to feel it isn't worth their time to vote," Papan said.

"But these are times when everyone's vote is of vital importance," he said.

"This year, voters will be asked to make several key decisions which could have direct effect on all of our lives for years to come. And the course the state will take will be determined in a large part by the number of people who participate in the coming election," he said.

Papan stressed the impact of several major ballot propositions which will be included in the November ballot.

Supervisor-elect Hits Lame Ducks

Supervisor-elect John M. Ward charges in a letter to State Senator Arlen Gregorio, D-San Mateo, that the residents of San Mateo County are being "short changed" with two lame duck representatives on the County Board of Supervisors.

Both Ward, who defeated incumbent Robert St. Clair, and Edward J. Bacciocco Jr., who defeated incumbent Gerald F. Day in the June primary election, will not take office until next Jan. 7, an interim of seven months.

Ward is suggesting to Gregorio that he consider introducing legislation which will avert a duplication of the problem in the future.

His proposal, Ward says, is to provide through state law that when only two candidates file for a county nonpartisan office the Board of Supervisors may (permissive rather than mandatory) schedule the election in November.

The greatest drawback to having a supervisor take over immediately after being elected in June is that the board is in the middle of budget hearings and, further, the defeated incumbent would not have completed a full four-year term for which he may have been elected.

Ward admits that an initial reaction to the proposal might be directed at the potential length of such a campaign. However, he says, it is "most unlikely" that such a campaign would heat up before September, as is the case for most partisan elections.

"A realistic ceiling on campaign expenditures would also restrict the length of a campaign, as well as the amount of activity generated," Ward contends.

Ward notes he has discussed the idea with Supervisor William H. Royer, who "should be credited with the idea in the first place," and with Board Chairwoman Jean Fassler, both of whom "support the action I have taken."

Brien Presents LSSD's Major Goals for Term

Superintendent James Brien has presented a set of three major goals for the Laguna Salada district for the 1974-75 school year, plus four continuing goals.

Development and implementation of a comprehensive plan for the improvement of the educational program in grades four to eight will receive a major thrust during the year. Brian indicated that the district's program for kindergarten to third grade pupils has shown marked steady improvement — particularly in the area of reading — but, that a four to eight grade emphasis is needed in order to provide a stronger program in those grade levels. This goal ties in with recent recommendations made by a U. C. Study Team relative to seventh and eighth graders.

Brien says he believes the time is now to develop and begin to implement a comprehensive plan for the improvement of the District's status relative to other districts in the State.

He intends to do this with these techniques and procedures:

✓Appoint a select, representative committee to study employee salaries, pupil-teacher ratios, auxiliary services, maintenance and operating and make recommendations for improvement to the board.

✓Study and compare this district with others in the State and establish priorities for "gaining ground" on other districts, based upon the comparison.

✓Make decisions on spending district funds, based upon priorities set for the improvement of these areas of the district operation.

The financial situation of the 'low-wealth' elementary district will continue to be of major importance to Brien and his staff, he says.

Goal No. 3 is — to continue to strive for equalized educational opportunity for the children of the State.

Chorale Rehearsals To Begin

Rehearsals will begin Sept. 2 for the new season of the Masterworks Chorale. The 100-voice group was founded in 1964 by its director, R. Galen Marshall, under the auspices of the Department of Community Services of the College of San Mateo. Rehearsals will begin on the Labor Day holiday evening as the repertoire is difficult and will need maximum preparation before the presentation.

The opening concert Dec. 15, with professional orchestra and soloists, will be Beethoven's "Missa Solemnis." The spring concert will feature the premiere performance of "The Lord's Prayer" by Charles Gustavson, a member of the music faculty of the College of San Mateo. The composition, commissioned by the Community Services Division using texts by Buckminster Fuller, is scheduled for performance in May of 1975 with professional orchestra, soloists and jazz ensemble.

Persons interested in membership in the Masterworks Chorale should plan to attend the first or second rehearsal at 7:15 p.m. on Sept. 2, or Sept. 9, in the Choral Room in Music Building 2 to arrange for an audition. Criteria for membership is fourfold: experience in choral singing, basic musicianship, some ability to sight read own part and the permission of the director.

Transit Vote Slated Nov. 5

The Board of Supervisors made it official last Tuesday.

San Mateo County voters will decide at the polls in the Nov. 5 general election whether or not a San Mateo County transit district will be created.

The Aug. 20th action followed signing by Gov. Ronald Reagan of legislation sponsored by the county seeking authority to submit the transit district proposal in the election.

The board adopted resolutions to place the transit matter on the ballot and setting the date of the election.

Supervisor Gerald F. Day, who is chairman of the board of control of the San Mateo County Transit Development Project, offered the resolutions, commenting:

"This is something the county has been working for for some time."

The only public comment at Tuesday's hearing came from Gilbert Rodli, a Burlingame public relations consultant and Republican candidate for the 19th Assembly District in the November election.

Rodli said he will support approval of the transit district, stating the county has been "wrestling many years with transit, and this will give it the chance to decide on its own solution to transit problems."

A citizens committee headed by Frank Small of Millbrae has been organized to prepare arguments in support of creation of the transit district. Chief Civil Dep. Dist. Atty. L. M. Summey said that arguments for inclusion in mailing of sample ballots for the election must be submitted to the office of County Clerk-Recorder Marvin Church by Sept. 3.

Westmoor High Class Schedule Mailed this Week

Westmoor class schedules for the 1974-1975 school year will be mailed to students this week according to Pablo Perez, assistant principal guidance, Westmoor High School.

Students who need to change their programs to enroll in the Work Experience Education Program, should telephone Westmoor High School (756-3434) to make an appointment with their respective counselor.

Counselors will be available tomorrow, but students must have an appointment. Students new to Westmoor should telephone the school for an appointment to enroll on this date.

All students new to Westmoor also are invited to attend the school's annual orientation assembly in the Boy's Gym tomorrow at 8:30 a.m.

Student Body Officers, who are in charge of the program, will explain the co-curricular school program and conduct guided tours of the school.

BART Ruling

A judge Thursday ruled that government immunity laws prohibit the Bay Area Rapid Transit District from being a defendant in a case involving a Hillsborough police officer's $500,000 suit for defamation.

The officer, Elvin Barr, filed suit in February against BART and the town of Hillsborough, claiming that fellow officers told a BART investigator Barr "seemed to show strong homosexual tendencies."

As a result, Barr's attorney Alvin Potter said, his client was not considered for employment with BART's police services division last fall.

Dean M. Robinson, an attorney for BART, argued before San Mateo County Superior Court Judge G. Brooks Ice that government immunity laws provide that one acting in an official capacity cannot be held liable for defamation unless malice is involved.

Bob Lucas Trio Back From Short Vacation

The Bob Lucas Trio, returning from vacation, opened in the lounge of Hyatt House Burlingame Tuesday night. General Manager Bob Williamson has booked June Christie, one of the country's top female vocalists, for a three-night gig in mid-September . . . Adrian Stickney's Shirt Tail in Palo Alto will not be open on Labor Day, and the same holds true for his Santa Clara Hick'ry House. The Holiday hours will remain the same at the other Stickney's locations, with the exception of Town and Country Village, which will open for business at 11 a.m. . . . There's another new attraction at the exotic Castaway restaurant on Coyote Point. Manager Al Stuetzle is now featuring live music every Friday and Saturday night. Billy Tayake and the Royal Polynesians, the same group that provided the south-sea sounds at the Fairmont Hotel for over three years, will be featured.

Vince's Lunch and Dinner Selections

No matter how you try to slice it, Vince's Italian and Seafood restaurant presents a selection of lunch and dinner specialties that is hard to beat. From appetizers (clams, crab, oysters) to desserts (ice cream, Spumone, cheese cake, Zabaione), the menu offers an entire range of Italian and seafood favorites. Today's Luncheon Special is Baked Fish. Served with clam chowder or minestrone soup or luncheon salad . . . Bacchus, the god of wine, reigns over the dining room at Scotty Campbell's in Redwood City. He reigns in the cozy cocktail lounge, which should be your first stop in an enjoyable dining experience in friendly surroundings. Dinners are from the "Hearth, Oven and Skillet." . . . Phil Lehr's Steakery, in downtown San Francisco, wins unanimous praise from big eaters and dieters, alike. The reason is Phil's unique Pay-by-the-Ounce method of steak services: Extra-choice, aged steaks are cut to your exact order any size, and the size of the steak determines the price of the complete dinner . . . Have you ever tried a Shish Kebob sandwich? If not, Dick's Corner House in downtown San Mateo features them. However, Shish Kebob is also available as a regular plate. Prices are modest.

Nothing in Peoria Like Finocchio's

Twenty nurses from Peoria, Ill., on a stop-over during their charter trip to the Orient, dropped by Finocchio's for an evening of fun and entertainment . . . Nick Gust, cordial host-owner of the three outstanding restaurants in Pacifica, Nick's, The Moonraker, and Captain Charles, is amazed at the number of surfers who populate picturesque Rockaway Beach in the daytime . . . "Strictly Italian" is how Gene Pardini describes the new menu concept at his Pardini's restaurant in Millbrae . . . Ed Murphy and Tom Chigas, two enterprising gents who saw the need and filled it, are the owners of the recently-opened Christopher's, a well-operated breakfast and hof brau spot on Baldwin Avenue. Italian submarine sandwich is the specialty. Also featured daily are hot items . . . Daybreak is the versatile four-piece group now entertaining Thursday through Saturday in the Ivory Coast Lounge at Holiday Inn, Belmont. The group has performed with such headliners as Trini Lopez, Woody Herman and Creedance Clearwater . . . Enrico Romano, owner of Romano's Italian restaurant, Rockaway Beach in Pacifica, maintains a vigil over his business that never falters. He spends many hours a day in his kitchen preparing the special sauces which have made his Italian restaurant well known up and down the coast.

Bruno Fireman Contract Set

The San Bruno firefighters' union contract ratified Monday night by the City Council got right down to what kind of clothes they may wear.

"A button-down sweater, the color of which is compatible with the color of the present uniform, will be included as part of the acceptable uniform," states one paragraph of the Local 1944 Memorandum of Understanding.

In the salary category, the firemen signed a contract similar to other city employe groups; a nine per cent salary increase effective Aug. 19 of this year and a similar increase beginning in July, 1974, unless there is a higher cost of living increase according to Bureau of Labor Statistics figures.

The firefighters also have the optional dental and health plans of the other city groups.

In additon, the firefighters maintained a modified "agency" shop, whereby a condition of employment is that firemen be and remain union members or pay a "service charge."

Another unique condition of the firefighters' contract has to do with keeping the station supplied with the staples of life

The firefighters also received a compulsory arbitration clause, although that arbitration is limited only to the matters covered in an outlined grievance procedure.

The ratification of the firemen's contract would have completed actions on all city employe contracts had there not been an apparent misunderstanding about the police association's Memorandum of Understanding.

Two weeks ago the council, without having a signed paper in their hands, ratified a police association agreement about which the members of the association say they disagree.

The issue remains in limbo. Mayor Tony Governale said as far as the city is concerned there is a contract.

Burlingame Program Rejected

A proposal to create a community youth service officer program to provide classroom instruction in the San Mateo Union High School District was killed last week by the Criminal Justice Council of San Mateo County.

A council task force called the program, proposed by the Burlingame Police Department, too narrow.

The council considers requests for applications for state grant funding on several projects, and establishes priorities for criminal justice programs.

The task force additionally recommended that the need for a juvenile delinquent diversion program should be examined.

Anne Taylor, acting executive director of the council, said the proposal asked for $70,000 to pay for officers from Burlingame, Foster City and San Mateo to conduct classroom lessons and related matters.

She and Belmont Police Chief William Singer noted that several cities in the county, including Burlingame, provide such programs already from their respective city budgets.

Mrs. Taylor said Burlingame's proposal was aimed at expanding such programs.

Rape Defendant Found Guilty

A judge Wednesday convicted a Redwood City man arrested after falling asleep in the bed of a woman he had raped. Police had reported he still had a knife in his hand at the time of the arrest.

San Mateo County Superior Court Judge W. Howard Hartley remanded 31-year-old Merle John Samansky into custody after attorneys presented their closing arguments. He will be formally sentenced Sept. 29 at 9 a.m. in Redwood City. Hartley conducted a two-day court trial.

The judge did not take time for deliberations, rendering eight guilty verdicts from the bench. Samansky was convicted on two counts of burglary, four counts of oral copulation, one count of rape and one count of attempted rape. The charges stemmed from two incidents.

Flower Bulb Shopping Time Has Arrived

By IVA NEWMAN

When August weather gets so hot that all a gardener can do is water and hunt the shade it is time to check through the catalogs and choose bulbs and plants for spring flowers. Also, there are some that are not spring bloomers that should be ordered now, for some of the flowers are grown from bulbs, tubers, rhizomes, tuberous rhizomes, corms and tuberous roots.

Right now we have, blooming in our garden, a bulb which we bought under the name of "Ismene Calathina Advance" which we ordered at this time some years ago. It was delivered in December. This bulb also is known botanically as Hymenocallis Calantha Advance.

It also has two common names. It is known as Peruvian daffodil and Spider Lily and is listed in some books under these names. My Ismenes are planted in pots so that I can display the showy white flowers by the front door when they are in flower. The flowers are fragrant, look like a very large daffodil with six slender free filaments which make the blooms strikingly lovely.

Last Monday evening at a meeting of the California Horticultural Society, a magnificent Lilium Speciosum Magnificum was discussed. This lily was growing in a pot so that it would be portable. We grow all our lilies in pots as the gophers are particularly fond of lily bulbs.

It was brought out that lilies need a porous, fast-draining, moist, rich soil slightly on the acid side. The grower of the lily stated that he filled each pot about one-third full of good drainage material then added the soil. When the foliage yellowed he turned the pots on their sides so the bulbs wouldn't rot from too much water.

Lily bulbs are also delivered in December and as they never go completely dormant they must be planted as soon as received even though many of them don't bloom until August.

Dutch Iris usually are shipped in late September so orders for these bulbs should go in at once. These bulbous iris bloom in late March and April here on the Peninsula if we have a warm spring. They need sun and a well drained soil.

The bearded iris are grown from rhizomes which also need to be ordered immediately as they should be planted as soon as possible.

Several of the iris growers run specials at this time of year and many a fine variety can be obtained at a reduced price.

Stagger Planting

Gladiolus are grown from corms. These are usually shipped in late December and January. It is important to get an order for gladiolus in as early as possible even though we don't have to rush in the planting as we do for lilies.

We like to plant 10 to 12 of a variety at one time but we stagger our plantings at two-week intervals starting in late December and ending in April so that we always have a few spikes to cut for flower arrangement.

One should try to find a place out of the wind for these stately flowers and here on the Peninsula the corms should be planted more deeply than most garden books recommend. We set our corms a good six inches deep to help them withstand our wind.

We plan to plant a number of containers with tulips this year and we are putting them in containers as we just can't control the gophers. We will use one variety to a container and set the bulbs so there is about one inch of space between each bulb.

We have done this before and found the bulbs will produce flowers a second and third year if the bulbs are fertilized and watered after they have finished flowering.

This year we have fallen quite hard for 'Keukenhof,' a multiflowering tulip we found in the Jackson & Perkins Co., Medford, Ore. 97501, catalog. This tulip is said to produce four to five big blooms from each bulb. Blooms are cherry red and said to be as big as Darwin blooms with long stems.

Another tulip that has caught our imagination in this catalog is the "Parrot" tulips. We hope to get some of the new "Flaming Parrot" which is patterned beautifully with brilliant yellow and bright red.

The above firm also has a new daffodil named "Pink Glory" that has us excited. This is a trumpet daffodil with a pure white perianth and a trumpet that opens pale yellow then turns a rich, pure pink. We will plant most of our daffodils in the garden as gophers don't care for these bulbs but Pink Glory will go in a pot so that we can show it off if it turns out as good as the catalogs predict.

More New Daffodils

The George W. Park Seed Co., Greenwood, So. Car. 28647, are offering four new daffodils: "Accent" has a pure white, silky textured perianth and a salmon-rose trumpet. The bulb is listed as vigorous and a good increaser.

"Enterprise" has a double perianth and a cluster of short petals for the cup. The color is yellow and bright orange.

"Royal Orange" is pictured with a heavily frilled crown of deep orange and a white perianth. This daffodil is described as having the largest crown of any variety in the large-cupped class.

"Red Bird" has a deeply ruffled cup of fiery, orange-scarlet surrounded by a white perianth with fine overlapping petals.

This firm also is offering a new multi-flowering tulip named "Fiery Bouquet." This one is said to have three to five bright red flowers borne on 22-inch stems that we will have to try.

Wayside Gardens, Mentor, Ohio 44060 is offering a wide range of tulips and narcissus and some of the more unusual plants that are sometimes grouped carelessly under the heading of bulbs. We were particularly interested in seeing our Ismene picture and described.

They also are offering Sprekelia Formosissima, commonly called the Jacobean or Aztec Lily. This bulb has brillant scarlet flowers that remind one of a butterfly in flight. It is easily grown, we grew it in a pot and flowered it both indoors and outside.

However, it was the giant Wayside ranunculus that caught our attention. This is a particularly fine strain with beautiful peony-like flowers two inches and more in diameter. The bulbs are available only in mixed colors ranging from deep golden yellow through orange and pink to dark crimson, scarlet, orange-red and all other shades of red.

The bulbs, shaped like a cluster of small fingers should be kept in a cool place until October or early November. They should be soaked for about 48 hours before planting to speed up growth and advance the flowering period.

Melrose Gardens, Route 1, Box 466, Stockton 95205 has sent us a "bargain catalog" that offers many fine iris at greatly reduced prices. Iris fans should get on this firm's mailing list.

County Fights Slides

The County Board of Supervisors agreed Aug. 20 to provide the services of a county geologist to survey the area where portions of two roads were wiped out by mud slides in the Cuesta La Honda area last winter.

When some residents of the area appeared before the board two weeks ago seeking assistance, they were informed that there was nothing the county could do since it was believed that the roads were private routes because they had been maintained by the Cuesta La Honda Guild for at least the past 30 years.

However, Dist. Atty. Keith C. Sorenson said research has determined that the roads in all but the first subdivision of Cuesta La Honda were dedicated for public use and were accepted for such dedication by the Board of Supervisors.

Therefore, Sorenson reported, it is the county's duty and responsibility to maintain the roads.

County Engineer S. H. Cantwell Jr. said that his office is prepared to assume the maintenance of the roads.

Dep. County Engineer V. K. Sanders informed the board that the geologist could begin tests of the slide area, which started on private property above Canada Vista and took out a portion of that roadway, pushing it down onto Scenic Drive.

A report of the geologist's findings, with a recommendation for needed repairs and the cost of such work, should be ready in a maximum of three weeks, Sanders said.

Also accepted by the board was a proposal by Supervisor William H. Royer that residents of the Cuesta La Honda be given the opportunity to decide if their organization should assume repairs and future maintenance of the roads, or if the county should assume that function.

Since the residents had appeared before the board seeking assistance, Royer said he had a "good idea" of what the answer would be — "but I want the people to be able to make a choice."

Steven Webster, a member of the board of directors of the Cuesta La Honda Guild, said that residents probably would want the county to maintain the roads "now and in the future."

John C. Till, ana attorney representing the guild, said the organization will hold a meeting of members within the next three weeks to obtain a decision on the matter.

Cantwell noted in his report that the only official county interest in the area would be to restore and maintain the damaged roads and that any restoration or preservation of private property accruing from the operation would be incidental.

One side benefit, he reported, is that the county's geologic investigations would also show the probable geologic cross section of existing conditions for the private property where homes have been damaged.

This could preclude the necessity of performing separate investigations before determining what corrective measures have to be taken by each property owner the engineer noted.

GIRL SCOUTING

PAMELA HOLMGREN recently was appointed to the membership field staff specialty for the Daly City area, according to Janice Pettey who serves as the professional in charge of program and administration.

Pamela and Janice will work as a team serving local Scouts and adults. They are based at the Brisbane executive offices, 58 Cypress Lane, 467-3330.

PATROL SKITS were the recent highlight of the summer pot luck dinner of Daly City Girl Scout Junior troop #2855 meeting at Hope Lutheran Church.

Terri Brandt, Elizabeth Christen, Jenny Rivera and Virginia Chiappari were can-can dancers; Ave' McReynolds, Marilyn LeBlanc and Diane Christen performed from Cabaret.

Christy Dowd, Francis Castellon, Cristi Catelli, Dawn Hertogs and Elizabeth Christen did selections from the play "Amelia Badelia"; and Terri Brandt, Virginia Chiappari and Jenny Rivera did an Hawaiian selection.

BROWNIES of troop#1608 who received badge sashes and flew-up to #2855 included Tina Smith, Sheri Brandt, Leanne Rancon, Kim Terrell, Tina Fraitas and Rene Cox.

Ceremonies included opening and closing colors, the singing of patriotic songs and taps.

"WOMEN IN ACTION," an international Girl Scout opportunity in Washington, D.C., claimed the summer attention of three local Scouts.

LESLIE SCHWARZBACH, sophomore at Serramonte High and a member of Daly City Girl Scout Panorama troop #14 was joined by DARICE ROBINSON, Pacifica, Westmoor High and a mariner Scout from troop #13, and SALLY HEANEY, Senior Scout from South San Francisco.

Women's involvement in both business and government was covered in the seminar which drew 120 girls from England and Finland as well as the entire United States.

A representative panel of women executives from private business; the national Scouting Council; TOFS, Troops on Foreign Soil; the Peace Corps; HEW and the NIH research hospital; the Justice Department; and the Pentagon addressed the Scouts.

Pre-conference research papers were prepared by each of the three local girls for sharing with their sister Scouts. Some local resumes presented included those of Betty Meyerson, public relations director at Mary's Help Hospital; Jane Powell, Jefferson Union High School District Trustee; Margra McCloud, a San Francisco FBI agent; Shelley Fernandez, a local board member of the National Organization for Women; Carol Hehmeyer, an assistant district attorney in San Francisco; and Anna Ohlendorf, Daly City city clerk.

COORDINATOR

Joel Tucker of South San Francisco has been named director of commercial sales for Western Airlines in the San Francisco region.

His Holiness Baba to Visit Daly City

His Holiness Baba Gurbachan Singh Ji Maharaj, leader of Sant Nirankari Mission which has a reported following of some 10 million persons, will visit the Bay Area this week.

He is due to be an honored guest of the mayor of Daly City, McRobert Stewart, on Aug. 30 at city hall. His Holiness will make an address at 11 a.m. Aug. 30 at the Meditation Hall of Cultural Integration Fellowship, located at 2650 Fulton St. in San Francisco.

The Indian spiritual leader makes a yearly world tour and tries to visit the Bay Area every summer.

EVACUATION

Navy Lieutenant William R. Marcotte, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Marcotte of 1833 Nash Drive, San Mateo, Calif., has participated in the evacuation of civilian refugees from Cyprus. He serves on the staff of the commander, Amphibious Squadron Eight aboard the amphibious transport dock ship USS Coronado. Marcotte helped implement and coordinate the transportation of people from 25 nations to safe haven at Beirut, Lebanon.
